Dear Student,

I hope very much that you will enjoy your learning process with English 9. I have chosen four main themes, each representing a different dimension of your life. In each unit you will find a variety of learning activities related to different topics of that unit. These tasks will give you plenty of opportunities to develop both your general knowledge and English language skills (reading, listening, writing and speaking), as well as your English grammar. The book contains a rich vocabulary for you to learn and remember so that you will be ready to succeed in all your exams and in your use of English later on in life.

I wish you an interesting and successful year of English studies! Oksana Karpyuk

WHO ARE YOU?

- Vital Statistics
- Teen Generation

Pre-reading questions

What's your native language?
Who are important people in your life?
Are you good at doing sports?
What are your preferences in films and music?
Would you like to become a hero?
What ways can you develop your personality?

VITAL STATISTICS

READING & VOCABULARY

- Think and say.
 - If you want to get to know someone, what would you want to know about him / her?
- 2 Read Peter's blog and find out if the statements on page 7 are true or false.

Call me Archibald. My real name isn't important. In this blog I want to share my ideas with other kids my age. It isn't always easy to talk to our parents or even friends. I'm sure you understand me.

Here is some information about myself. I'm 14 years old. I play water polo. I go to the swimming pool every day except at the weekend. I'm a good swimmer and player although I'm not very tall or very strong. I'm also interested in photography. I use my dad's small digital camera. It takes great pictures. I've got lots of photos of my (of classmate friends one especially!). I read books about superheroes like Superman. I'm not a superhero myself but I hate injustice and I'd like to have some special powers, too.

I haven't got any brothers or sisters. My parents work hard and spend a lot of time at work, so I'm often alone at home. My mum's a teacher. She prepares for school and she always talks

- 1 Peter uses his real name in his blog.
- 2 Peter plays water polo five days a week.
- 3 Peter's an only child in the family.
- 4 Peter's mum works in a school.
- 5 Peter's dad thinks he's funny.
- 6 James is Peter's cat.

about her pupils. I sometimes get upset because maybe she thinks they're better than me. My mum says that Pete is such a good pupil. I think he reads my blog. My dad's a mechanic and he fixes cars. He tells jokes all the time and he is never serious. He thinks he has a sense of humour but his jokes aren't always funny!

I have a pet parrot. His name is James. He's got a cage in my room but he rarely stays in it. He usually flies around. He is friendly but he isn't polite; he hasn't got good manners. He never uses the toilet! He also bites computer cables and sometimes my finger!

E-mail me!

3 Work in pairs to answer the questions.

- 1 Think of one example of injustice. Do you hate injustice?
- Who in your family has a good sense of humour?
 And in your class?
- 3 Do you know any jokes? Are you good at telling jokes?
- 4 Do you have good manners? Think of one example of good manners.

□ religion

☐ favourite music
☐ dislikes

☐ birth sign
☐ interests

What else would you like to know about a person?

6 Brian James was interviewed for a teenage magazine. Read the teenager's talk about himself and find out the information to answer the questions on page 9.

I love to cook and make some fab Italian dishes. I love cooking for girls. Cooking for two is much more fun than cooking for yourself. I've got an older sister and a younger brother who's a cute 13. I'm a Gemini — my birthday's May 29th. I love animals — I've got two dogs and a fish. I listen to rap music. I work out, ride horses, surf and snow-ski. I love Mars bars and dry roasted peanuts. I love living in sunny California. Where else can you go skiing in March and then go back to the beach?

- 1 What does Brian love to do?
- 2 What does he love doing?
- 3 What does he love?
- 4 What is his birth sign?
- 5 What sort of music does he listen to?

- 6 Where does he live?
- 7 What does he do in his spare time?
- 8 Is he an only child in the family?

7 Read the magazine article about Brian and find out all the differences between the spoken text in Task 6 (Brian's actual words) and the written text below.

Name: Brian James He loves to cook and makes some fab Italian dishes. He loves cooking for girls, "Cooking for two is much more fun than cooking for yourself."

He's got an older sister and a younger brother who's a cute 13.

He's a gorgeous Gemini — his birthday's May 29th.

He loves animals — he's got two dogs and a fish.

He listens to rap music.

In his spare time, he works out, rides horses, surfs and snow-skis.

He loves Mars bars and dry roasted peanuts.

He loves living in sunny California, "Where else can you go skiing in March and then go back to the beach?"

Brian sums himself up as "outgoing, honest, positive, determined and caring."

8 Read and match the words with the same meaning.

Brian uses 'fab' and 'cute'. Words like these are typical of teenagers. Here are some common 'teen' words in the left column.

- 1 cute
- 2 cool
- 3 fab
- 4 fight
- 5 folks
- 6 gear
- 7 guy
- 8 mate
- 9 hang out

- a excellent
- b small and nice
- c very good; okay; nice; no problem
- d argument
- e parents
- f friend
- g clothes
- h spend time with friends
- i person

9 a) Match different meanings of the verb 'work out' with the appropriate sentences.

- a to find a solution
- b to calculate
- c to understand
- d to develop in a particular way (of a situation)
- e to do physical exercise

- 1 The plan worked out quite well.
- 2 Can you work out how much it will all cost?
- 3 I'm going to work out in the gym this evening.
- 4 I can't work her out.
- 5 I've worked out how we can get there.

b) Make up your own sentences with at least three different meanings of the verb.

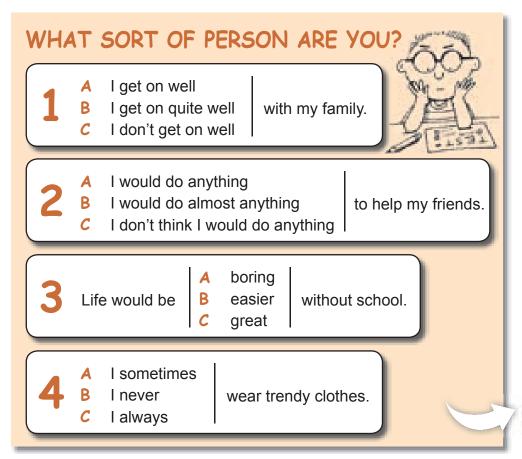

¹appropriate [əˈprəʊpriət] — відповідний

10 Match the adjectives from the box with their descriptions below.

outgoing, honest, positive, determined, gorgeous, caring

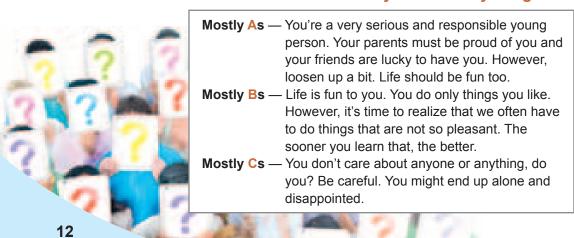

- 1 He thinks he will be successful and the situation will have a good result. ...
- 2 He is very good-looking. ...
- 3 He is friendly and open. ...
- 4 He helps people when they are in trouble. ...
- 5 He knows what he wants and tries hard to get it. ...
- 6 He doesn't lie to people. ...

11 Do the questionnaire. Each time choose only one statement.

Do the score and read about yourself. Do you agree?

GRAMMAR

REMEMBER!

Додаючи закінчення -ing, ми надаємо дієслову ознак іменника. Віддієслівний іменник називається герундієм (the gerund).

Collecting stamps is fun.

I started reading comics when I was 7. I am fond of painting.

- Герундій вживається після деяких дієслів: start, begin, love, enjoy, like, dislike, hate.
- Герундій вживається після деяких виразів: give up, don't mind, can't stand...
 He is dreaming of going to a holiday camp.
 He is tired of going to the same places.
- Герундій вживається після прийменників у фразах: be fond of, be (get) bored with, tired of, dream of, good/ bad at, interested in, famous for, be happy about, look forward to, be good at.
 - Brian is good at swimming.
- 2 Find some examples of the gerund in the text on page 9 (Task 7) and copy them in your notebook.

- 3 Write about the people you know.
 - ... likes meeting a lot of people.
 - ... is good at telling jokes.
 - ... gets tired of doing things very quickly.
 - ... is good at helping other people.
 - ... hates wasting time.
- 4 Make true sentences about yourself.
 You can use some of the expressions below.

Dancing, getting up early, eating fast food, swimming in the pool, surfing the Internet, listening to loud music, lying on a sunny beach, reading novels, travelling to new places, watching sports on TV, doing housework, taking a dog for a walk

1 I love... 5 I'm tired of...

2 I don't mind... 6 I'm good at...

3 I can't stand... 7 I'm bad at...

4 I enjoy... 8 I'm interested in...

5 Talk to your partner and find out how different your answers are. Tell the rest of the class about you and your friend.

Example: I like surfing the Internet, but ... doesn't.

... hates getting up early, but I don't mind it.

6 Complete the sentences with the gerund forms of the verbs from the box.

go, write, lie, study, pay

- 1 Stop ... and tell me the truth!
- 2 Start ... attention!
- 3 Finish ... this birthday card!
- 4 We have to continue ... if we want to pass the test.
- 5 It's never too late to begin ... to the gym.

1 Yes. I do.

2 No. I don't.

3 No, you don't.

4 Yes, he does.

6 No, they don't.

5 No, she doesn't.

LISTENING & VOCABULARY

1 Listen and complete the dialogue with the short answers from the box. Then listen again and check yourself.

Read the dialogue with a partner.

Adrian: Do you go to the local school?

Brian: Yes, I do.

Adrian: I know one girl from your school. Her name's Celia. Do you know her?

Brian: She's in my class.

Adrian: Do you have As in all the subjects at school?

Brian: No way.

Adrian: Do you get on with your parents?

Brian: Not all the time, but mostly, yes! My mum's a teacher.

Adrian: Does she help you with your homework?

Brian: But if I don't understand something, I ask her. Adrian: What do you do when you're not at school?

Brian: I'm in a water polo team.

Adrian: Why do you play? Do your parents push you?

Brian: ... I play because I want to. Adrian: Can I come and watch you?

Brian: Yes, you can.

Adrian: Do you have a dog?

Brian: No, I don't. I have a parrot. His name is James.

Adrian: Does he speak? Does he have a cage?

Brian: No, he doesn't speak, but he's very clever. He has a cage in my room.

Adrian: What does he do? Does he do any tricks? Brian: He plays and he sits on my shoulder.

Adrian: And how about girls? Is there a girl that you like? Do I know her?

Brian: You ask too many questions. Bye. See you.

Adrian: Hey, wait a moment! Do you have a mobile phone?

What's your number?

2 Work with a partner. Ask him / her questions.

Where / you live?

How / you go to school?

What / you do in your free time?

What kind of music / you like?

... you get on with your parents?

Where / your mother work?

Where / you spend your

b) Read what they say about their friends.

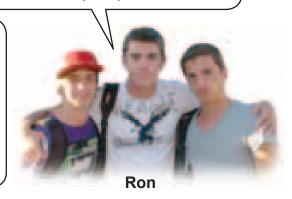

I know I'm a chatterbox. I talk too much and it's so hard for me to keep secrets. I'm a bit gossipy. Still, I have a lot of friends. How is it possible?

Andrew

I have two best friends. Benny is a bit bossy but he is a good friend. I can rely on him. I know that if I have a problem or get in trouble, he will help me. Dave is very quiet. Not a bit selfish. Everybody likes him.

My best friend is lan. He's such fun. We have so much in common. We are both football fans, we hate heavy metal and love SF films. It's never boring with him. Besides, we understand each other very well.

Gemma is my best friend. I love her because she is so interesting and fun. We share things. We even wear each other's clothes. My sister says we are stupid. But she is a health freak. You know, she does exercise, is a vegetarian, goes to bed early and ... always complains about me. Boring, isn't she?

I don't know what a good friend is because I don't have any. The TV and my computer are my best friends. My parents are angry at me. They call me, a couch potato because I spend so much time in front of the TV set. They say I should go out and find myself a friend. The truth is I don't know how to make friends. My classmates call me a computer wizard and they say they admire me. Still, they never invite me to their parties or call me out. I'm very unhappy about that, but I don't show it. You know, nothing can take the place of a friend, not even a computer or a TV set.

c) Work in pairs. Speak on the following.

- 1 Why does Thomas say that it's strange he has so many friends?
- 2 Why do Andrew and Ian get on so well?
- 3 Why does everybody like Dave?
- 4 Why does Carla's sister think that Carla and her friend are stupid?
- 5 Why are Phil's parents angry at him?
- 6 Work in groups. Think of people you know and who have these qualities. Speak in turns.

Who is...

... bossy? ... lonely? ... fun to be with?

... not selfish? ... talkative? ... gossipy?

7 Tell your class about your best friend.

 Say what your friend is like, what you do together and what you like best about him / her.

 Try to remember an incident when your friend proved to be a real friend.

VOCABULARY BOX

chatterbox ['tʃætəbɒks] to admire [əd'maɪə] to complain [kəm'pleɪn] to prove [pruːv] to rely [rɪˈlaɪ]
gossipy ['gɒsɪpɪ]

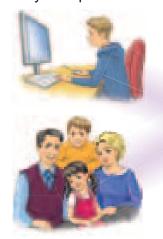

- 1 Read the sample of autobiography and consider the questions on page 25.
 - I was born on a cold winter night in my native Bennington, Oklahoma. I do not remember much of my early childhood, but my mum said that I was a very active, curious, and communicative child. I would ask dozens of questions each minute, even without waiting for the answers. I suppose that was why my parents offered me books and educational movies as early as my third birthday.
 - Fortunately, my thirst for knowledge did not come to an end when I was at school. I was fond of history and science. This passion helped me gain good knowledge in these areas. Today, I am a student at a law school, and I feel very happy about it.
 - I am certain that my good results in studies will become my ticket to a better tomorrow. I want to become a lawyer. I study hard and devote my free time to reading reviews and watching interviews with recognized specialists in the field.
 - Of course, I understand that life is not just a bed of roses, and challenges or difficulties are an integral element of life. Since my parents could not help me cover my college expenses¹ in full, I combine a part-time job and full-time study to earn my living and my education. I feel satisfied at the beginning of every month when I receive my salary² and plan how I will spend my money.

REMEMBER!

An autobiography is a written account of the life of a person written by that person. In other words, it is the story that people wrote about themselves. It is just like the biography that includes such things as time and place of their birth, an overview of their personality, their likes and dislikes, and the special events that shaped their life.

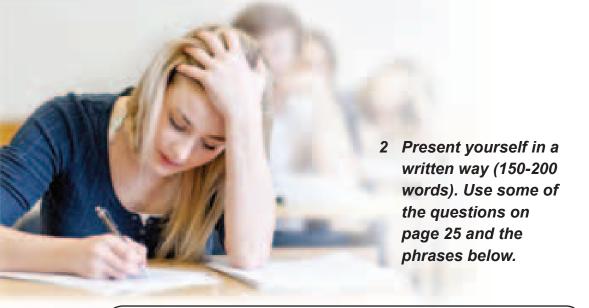

- 1 What famous quote¹ can describe your life?
- 2 Which 3 adjectives can be used to describe you as a person?
- 3 Who influenced your personal development?
- 4 What are your best and worst childhood memories?
- 5 What is your family social and ethnic background?
- 6 What are your relations with parents and other relatives?
- 7 What are your goals for the future?
- 8 What places would you like to visit and why?
- 9 What skills would you like to develop and why?
- 10 What was the most memorable day in your life?
- 11 What was the most important lesson you have ever learnt in your life?

12 What are the most important values in life, in your opinion?

- 1 I was born in...
- 2 I was an active (or quiet, shy, curious, etc.) child.

TEEN GENERATION

READING & VOCABULARY

- 1 Look at the pictures and match them with the names of different teenage groups.
 - 1 computer geeks
 - 2 preps
 - 3 high-flyers

- punk rockers 5
- athletes

2 Read the descriptions of different teenage groups and match them with the right names from Task 1.

Looks and fancy clothes are very important for them, and they sometimes spend hours in the bathroom just to get the perfect hairstyle or match the right outfit. You might call them fashion victims, because they love designer labels and always keep up with the latest trends. They don't generally have problems with school or teachers, but they have no special interests. When it comes to music, they listen to anything played on radio stations and MTV, as long as it's not too loud. And their favourite hangout? Shopping centres, of course, especially at weekends! They are simply ingenious when it comes to computers. Very few people can actually understand them when they talk about the latest software or new gadgets, which is when they get irritated! They are brilliant at science subjects, especially Maths and Physics, and schoolwork in general is rarely a problem for them. When it comes to clothes, they grab whatever is clean in their room. They are not too picky about music either, but rock, heavy metal or hip hop are among their favourites. They mix well with skaters, since skateboarding is often their favourite pastime. Their favourite hang-outs are computer labs, cyber cafes or any other place with a computer nearby. ឋ They are fascinated by African American urban culture, so baggy clothes and baseball caps are their most usual outfit. They don't consider graffiti vandalism, but an art form, so you can see their drawings on city walls, but sometimes in their notebooks or the school bathrooms, too. Of course, rap and hip hop are their favourite music, but girls frequently prefer R&B, and they are especially fond of hip-hop dance. Most hip hoppers are very good with words and rhymes, and know a lot about politics and global problems, so it's good to have them on your debate team. They love playing basketball in their free time, so school playgrounds are among their favourite hang-outs. Let's not forget the clubs, when there is a rap battle!

- School is the centre of their world, and most of them already have a clear idea about their future career. They are very ambitious and competitive, but also hard-working, so they never forget to do their homework. That's why other students sometimes call them nerds. They are extremely well-behaved, which is why they are almost always teacher's pets. They're not particularly fashion-conscious, but they like neat and casual clothes. They are not picky about popular music, but some of them like to join their parents at concerts of classical music. Although most teenagers find books boring, they really enjoy reading, so libraries are definitely among their favourite hang-outs.
- Their sports career is as important as school for them, and most of them miss a lot of classes because of preparations for important competitions. That's why they sometimes have a lot of schoolwork to catch up. At the same time, they do well in exams, but unlike some other students, they are certainly excellent at PE. A jogging suit is their most usual outfit, simply because it is the most comfortable one. It is also quite logical that they spend most of their free time in a gym, but sports events are also among their favourite hang-outs.

3 Work in pairs to answer the following questions about the teenage groups.

- 1 Who doesn't really care about clothes?
- 2 Who enjoys dancing?
- 3 Who is fashion-conscious?
- 4 Who is very responsible about schoolwork?
- 5 Who spends a lot of time in a gym?
- 6 Who likes drawing graffiti?

- 4 Work in groups of five.
 - a) Copy the profile grid below. Each student reads one description again and fills in the profile for a particular teenage group.

Teenage group:	Computer geeks	Preps	High- flyers	Hip hoppers	Athletes
Looks and clothes:
School:
Hobbies and interests:
Music:
Favourite hang-outs:

- b) Speak on the following questions.
 - Would you join any of these teenage groups?
 - Which teenage group would you join and why?
- 5 a) Look up these adjectives in the descriptions of teenage groups in Task 2 and answer the questions below.

picky, ingenious, competitive, fashion-conscious

How would you describe someone...

- 1 ...who cares a lot about what clothes to wear?
- 2 ...who is very clever?
- 3 ...who is hard to please?
- 4 ...who likes success and competition?

b) Work in pairs. Guess what these words mean. Look them up in the descriptions of teenage groups and answer the questions.

an outfit, a hang-out, to keep up with, a teacher's pet, a gadget, pastime, vandalism, to be fond of

- 1 What school subjects are you fond of?
- 2 Do you know anyone who is a teacher's pet?

2 Read and write a few true sentences of what you like and don't like doing.

My favourite sport is ice-skating. I enjoy dancing to pop music. Skating is also a very good way of keeping fit. What about you? What is your favourite sport? Say what you think about these leisure activities: watching films on TV, dancing, swimming in the river, going out with friends, fishing, cycling, climbing, picking up mushrooms, jogging, boating, skiing, camping, etc. I often go swimming, fishing, sailing and riding. How often do you go skating?

Example: I like getting presents.

I hate getting up early.

My favourite leisure time activity is ...

I don't enjoy ...

I (really) like/enjoy/love ... (very much)
I (don't) like ...

3 Write out all of the sentences with the gerund form from Task 6 of Lesson 1 (page 8).

4 Fill in the gaps using the gerund or the infinitive.

Mr Brown likes (sit) ... at home and (read) ... the newspapers in the evening. Joan, his wife, enjoys (read) ... novels. Natalie likes (to go) ... for a walk in the evening. Alison's hobby is (listen) ... to classical music.

5 Be a polite person and begin the following commands with 'Would you mind...?'

Example: Wait in the hall.

Would you mind waiting in the hall?

- 1 Come back later.
- 2 Sit in the second row.
- 3 Open the window.
- 4 Close the door.
- 5 Give this message to Mr Brown.
- 6 Give this book to Alison.
- 7 Explain it again.
- 8 Hold my bag.

- 9 Read your question again.
- 10 Write what you said on the board.
- 11 Sit in the next row.
- 12 Learn vocabulary on page 5.
- 13 Complete exercise 6 on page 23.
- 14 Go and sit next to George.

6 Answer the questions.

- 1 What films do you think are worth seeing?
- 2 Do you enjoy travelling by plane? Why?
- 3 What do you do after coming home from school?
- 4 Which do you enjoy more, going to the theatre or going to the cinema?
- 5 Do you like or dislike travelling long distances by train?

- 6 When do you expect to stop studying English?
- 7 What places are worth visiting in your town?
- 7 Make up one sentence from two. Use the perfect form of the gerund. Explain its use.

Example: I have read this book. I remember.

I remember having read this book.

He entered the room. Nobody noticed him. Nobody noticed his having entered the room.

- 1 I have shown him the letter. I am sure.
- 2 I have given her the magazine. I remember.
- 3 He has been so rude. He is sorry.
- 4 We have seen this play. We are sure.
- 5 She has asked me about it. Nobody noticed this.
- 8 Work in pairs. Make up your dialogue using the expressions below.
 - Excuse me for interrupting you.
 - Do you mind my reading here?
 - I'm afraid of going there.
 - I'm looking forward to seeing you.

LISTENING & VOCABULARY

1 Look at these words and get their meanings.

smart clothes = stylish, elegant clothes

well groomed = tidy scooter = a light motorbike with a small engine accessories = things that you wear or carry that match your clothes, for example, a piece of jewellery or a bag.

- 2 a) Before listening to the 'Top Pop' radio interview with a young fashion design student write down 5 questions you would ask her.
 - b) Listen to the interview and match the answers (page 37) to the questions and the reporter's phrases below.

Reporter:

- 1 London Fashion Week has just finished and you've been named the most promising fashion design student. Why have you come to study fashion design in London?
- 2 How do these styles differ from each other?
- 3 | see...
- 4 But there are also some strange looking guys.
- 5 So you are saying that there is a strong connection between fashion and music.
- 6 What do you personally like?
- 7 What's your favourite shopping place in London?
- 8 What fashion advice would you give to our young listeners?
- 9 Thank you very much. It was nice talking to you.

	Some young people have
ш	money and they spend quite a lot of it on clothes. They like wearing smart clothes, loafers, tight fitting sportswear. They like riding scooters. Their hair is well groomed and they have regular haircuts.
Ш	But there are more and more people who like wearing comfortable clothes. They are more in touch with the natural world. They think that today's world revolves too much around money.
	Well, comfortable clothes with style.
	Camden Lock Market. You can get anything you want there — fake Levi's , leopard print swimsuits, old records, jewellery made from recycled metal. It attracts an amazing mixture of people, so it's fun just watching them. I often get inspired there.
	Well, London is the right place to be because it's famous for its street fashion and a lot of second-hand shops or markets - so young people can buy cheap clothes and create their own style.
	Yeah, of course. Some young people like dying their hair in bright colours. In big cities they are also connected with punk and rave.
	Yes. Fashion and music have always been connected. Let's say heavy metal is associated with leather jackets, long hair, tattoos, powerful motorbikes. While Punk was famous for a lot of strange accessories like chains, safety pins, and of course spiky hair, Rap goes together with baggy clothes.
	Well, I'd say a person's style depends on the imagination, not that much on money. I really believe in creating a style that doesn't cost much. Fashion should be more on the artistic side. Today it is still a big business.

c) Write down the words connected with fashion from the text of the interview.

3 Say if the following statements are true or false.

- 1 Fashion and music are often connected.
- 2 Some people dye their hair in strange colours.

SPEAKING

- 1 Do a survey in your class and report its results.
 - How many students wear a baseball cap (jeans, a T-shirt)?
 - What colours are popular?
 - Why do they wear it (them)?
 (Because it's / they're comfortable / fashionable.
 Because it / they protect(s) the eyes from sunshine, etc.
 Because they play baseball, etc)

2 a) Listen to these three people talking about fashion. Name all the items of clothing they mention.

"I like wearing baggy sportswear because I spend a lot of time on my skates. I'm wearing a hooded top and a baseball cap. I usually wear it the other way round. There are some of my friends who like clothes with a label, but I always put sport before fashion. The most important thing is that I feel comfortable in the clothes I wear. I have always wanted to have a leather jacket but I haven't bought one, because they are rather expensive."

"I have never been interested in fashion. Clothes are clothes. I hate going shopping so I'm happy with whatever I get from my mum or sister. I really can't understand why there's so much fuss about these expensive clothes — I'd rather buy a book or a playstation game. I bought one last week and I'm broke now. This tracksuit top I'm wearing now is a birthday present from my sister. I got it last year."

a ... evening dress, designer's ..., ... a jacket you like, make a ... about something, ... to someone's demands

- d) Make a presentation about yourself. Mention what you usually wear, your favourite clothes and attitude to fashion.
- 3 Work in pairs. Speak on the topics.
 - What kind of music do you like?
 - What kind of clothes do the stars in your favourite group wear?
- 4 Look through recent fashion magazines and your family photos. Tell what clothes your family members used to wear during their lifetime.

- 5 Work in groups. Think of your classmates, friends or neighbours in terms of clothing. Discuss the following questions.
 - Who of them follows fashion?
 - What do they wear on different occasions?
 - Who of them thinks fashion is not very important?
 - What's your teachers' (parents') attitude towards what you wear on different occasions?
 - What are the present trends in teenage fashion? Do you care?

ALL ABOUT ME ...

I don't know where to begin, because I don't like talking about myself. I don't fit in any group, especially the popular ones. I'm not ... because I don't think much about clothes. I just wear what's comfortable, so I guess preps would look down on me. My mum thinks I spend too much time in front of the computer, but I only use it for schoolwork and chatting. Anyway, she always says I should go out more. I love classical music. Whenever I ..., I play the piano. I also like dancing, but I have absolutely no talent for it. I guess hip hoppers wouldn't like to see me in their dance group. And, let's not forget my reading. I read tons of books, and they are not just for my English class. That's why libraries are my favourite My dad thinks I should do some sports, but I'm simply not much of an athlete. And I hate PE! Other than that, school is not a problem for me, although I'm not ambitious and ... like high-flyers. I'm excellent at Chemistry, but History gives me a headache. I never speak up in class, so who would want me on their debate team? I'm such a boring person! Thank God I have Sugar. I always talk to him. I tell him all my secrets, and he's always there for me. Dogs are great friends, aren't they?

b) Work in small groups. Discuss the questions below.

YOUR RESULTS:

If you scored 40 or more, you are completely music mad. You live and breathe for music. You are probably a musician yourself!

Lessons 1-2

If you scored 20-39, you take an active interest in music. You probably choose your friends according to whether they like the same type of music as you do.

If you scored 10-19, then music is not your main leisure interest. You probably prefer sport or reading, for example.

If you scored 9 or less, you are musically brain dead. You probably don't know the difference between Mozart and Madonna!

- b) Choose one of the topics below and, in groups, make up a questionnaire similar to the above 'Are you Music Mad?'. Use the questionnaire to find out about other mates.

DO YOU KNOW?

Young people express themselves, for example, in Weblish, a new shorthand English used in text messaging and in the Internet chat rooms. Weblish is a kind of 'slang' — idiomatic English which often breaks the rules of correct English. For example, capital letters are not used. Here is a glossary¹ of some of the key expressions and symbols used in chat rooms.

- 12 Discuss with your class why the use of the Internet (especially chatting) can be risky at times. Here are some ideas to help you. Say if you agree or disagree with them.
 - 1 Online friends are not real friends.
 - 2 People often lie online. That's why you can't trust anyone.
 - 3 Internet friendships take teenagers away from real people and friends.
 - 4 Parents should have control over what their teenagers are doing on the net.
 - 5 Teen bloggers are often careless. They say too much about themselves and this makes it possible for weirdos to track them down.

REMEMBER!

Everyone you meet online is a stranger. Don't give important information about yourself like your name, where you go to school, or your address.

13 Prepare a mini poster about yourself, with the title ALL ABOUT ME..., for the school yearbook.

FILE FOR PROJECT

- Step 1. On separate sheets of paper write about your tastes in clothes, subjects you like at school, hobbies and interests, tastes in music, favourite hangouts, or anything else that you think might be interesting for other people to know about you.
- Step 2. Find some photographs or draw some pictures.
- Step 3. Make a poster using your writings and pictures.

YOUTH CULTURES

The term 'culture' can be defined as language, dress, beliefs, manners and tastes in food or music of a particular² group.

The concept³ of youth culture appeared in America in the 1950s and spread to Britain in the 1960s. It was a result of the improvement in Western economics, which meant that teenagers had money to spend.

There was the development of music and fashion industries with the orientation to the youth market. New groups of young people dressed in Italian-style and leather⁴ clothes appeared. They were called Mods. But there were young people who were against the materialistic wealth and stressed on spiritual⁵ values. They tried to show their protest in wearing unusual clothes, hair dress or in other ways. Thus in the 1960s and 1970s Hippies appeared. These young people usually had long hair and wore second-hand clothes. They liked to say, 'Make love, not war.' Hippies were against the Vietnam War and showed their peaceful feelings in their rock songs. Some of them are still popular — 'Give Peace a Chance' and 'All You Need is Love'.

In the mid 1970s punk rock appeared. Punks were not peace loving, but full of hate. There was a great unemployment (especially among young people) at that time. Many teenagers blamed¹ the society and in punk movement they expressed their negative feelings. Punks often had brightly coloured hair and wore clothes that could shock people. Later these movements influenced some other aspects of life. For example, Punk became a clothes design style and punk magazines 'fanzines', fan clubs, posters appeared.

As a large number of teens today watch music videos, these influence their minds. Teens watch cool Rappers, who look and sound unusual and they want Rap and hip-hop were born in the ghettoes¹ of New York over 30 years ago. Rap fashion is big business today. The clothes, sometimes very expensive from Prada and Gucci, Ralph Lauren and Polo, express a lack² of respect for tradition and authority³. Rappers wear huge gold necklaces and drive costly cars. There is also a rap language or rather a slang, used by many teens. Such artists as Justin Timberlake and Eminem use it in their songs. Many rap songs make teenagers believe that money is the most important thing in the world.

An analysis of different youth cultures which have appeared and influenced each other helps to make the following conclusions. Here they are.

- Youth cultures are formed in reaction to society's values.
- Youth cultures help young people become independent of their families
- They are consumer products sold to the young.
- These cultures give young people the opportunity to be something different before they agree and accept society's values.
- Youth cultures enable young people to express themselves by choosing the style that suits them.
- The values of a youth culture do not matter⁴ just have to be different from those of the older generation.

Are they good or bad? No one can say. But it's quite clear that youth cultures can bring change to a society and help young people in their search for identity¹.

Hippies
Punks Rappers

b) Look through your chart and match the youth groups with the photos 1-4.

- 3 Discuss the questions in groups.
 - Why do youth cultures exist?
 - What are their functions?
 - What are the youth cultures of today?
- 4 Choose one of the youth cultures and make a presentation of it. Describe the language, beliefs, manners, tastes in music and clothes of its young representatives².

 - a) a TV guide
 - b) a reality show
 - c) a film

Hana: Have you seen the TV guide anywhere? I can't find it. I'm the only one in class who hasn't seen the new reality show yet.

Grandma: No, I haven't. But a life of your own.

we've already argued about these shows. They're just a poor substitute for real life. What you hear there is just a small talk, shallow chit-chat and gossip. No criteria. No clue what clever people have said or written about. Come on, Hana, start reading, talk to real people. Get Hana: How unfair! You're such a typical teacher. These shows aren't school. They're real life. Hallo? You always talk about books and people from the past. Who cares?

Grandma: That's exactly what I am talking about. Who cares...!? How immature! You have picked up that attitude from such cheap reality shows and soaps.

Hana: No, I've picked it up from my gang. From real life. And the shows aren't cheap.

Grandma: What they offer is trash. Most of these young people have poor education, no higher goals in life and are desperate to do anything stupid or provocative just to be in front of the cameras.

Hana: What do you mean poor education? As far as I know all of them finished some secondary school or even university.

VOCABULARY BOX

criteria [kraɪˈtɪərɪə]
a dignity [ˈdɪgnɪti]
a reliability [rɪˌlaɪəˈbɪlɪti] to avoid [əˈvɔɪd]
to judge [dʒʌdʒ]|
to substitute [ˈsʌbstɪtjuːt] desperate [ˈdespərət] shallow [ˈʃæləʊ]
spiritual [ˈspɪrɪt[ʊəl]

Grandma: Well, that's just something formal. But what are their ambitions in life? What can you learn from them? Anything about literature? About culture? About anything spiritual? Just eating, giggling, flirting and fooling around.

Hana: But they talk about normal stuff, like fashion, food, love...

Grandma: What do you mean, love? Those young people usually don't know the meaning of true love. Where's the romance here, growing together, sharing of life's highs and lows, loyalty and the sacrifice in the name of love?

Hana: Oh, Gran, you're so old-fashioned. And way too critical. You always use big words like sacrifice, dignity, principles and stuff. That's so yesterday.

Grandma: Maybe. But, let's make an experiment. As a teacher I like good films about teachers. Here's a DVD with my favourite film. It's DEAD POETS' SOCIETY. If you want to watch that reality show of yours at my place, watch the film first and then tell me what you think of it. I promise you the film will open a whole new world for you.

7 a) Find the corresponding paraphrase for these words:

attitude	when you do or don't do something in desperate	the name of love or some higher provocative	principle
criteria	a frame of mind, an opinion, a view trash	trying very hard to achieve or avoid loyalty	something sacrifice	annoying, offensive, challenging, not perspective	ordinary a kind of pattern, a standard to judge something angle, a personal view of a situation something unimportant, junk, rubbish a kind of bond you feel with someone reliability provocative criteria trash loyalty sacrifice

- b) Write at least three paraphrases of your own and challenge the class to guess.
- 8 a) Choose at least three simple words that you use and three compicated ('big') ones.
 - Is there a difference in meaning?

chit-chat, small talk, no clue, ambition, gossip, perspective, criteria, sacrifice, flirting, dignity, education, eating, orientation, principles, gang, fooling around, loyalty, stuff

- b) Use at least three simple and three 'big' words in your own sentences.
- 9 a) Agree or disagree with 1 or 2.
 - 1 Only show-offs use big words.
 - 2 Teenagers always use simple words.
 - b) In groups, discuss on the items above. Support your opinion with arguments and examples.

Non-Defining Relative Clauses
Bill	, who never watches TV,	likes reading books.
London television	, which has broadcast since 1936,	is one of the oldest.
Mary	, whose family lives very far,	lives in London now.
In London	, where he studies,	he has spent 3 years already.

Defining Relative Clauses

Інформація в обежувальному означальному реченні є необхідною. Без неї речення не буде мати сенсу.

Порівняйте: A school is a place where you study.

A school is a place.

Обмежувальні означальні речення ніколи не виділяються комами.

Example:

The book which I bought yesterday is excellent.

The lady who just left the shop had a monkey in her bag.

The man that is waiting for you has a pleasant smile on his face.

2 a) Fill in the sentences with 'who' or 'which / that'.

- 1 That's the shop ... sells good sports clothes.
- 2 I'm the runner ... came first in the race.
- 3 He's the doctor ... works in our local hospital.

Використовуйте відносні займенники.

People > who, whose, that Places > where, that Things > which, whose, that

- 4 Elen is the girl ... lives next door.
- 5 Red Cross is a charity organisation ... gives aid to countries around the world.
- 6 Jenny likes Jim, ... is an honest guy.

b) Fill in the sentences with 'whose', 'where' or 'when'.

- 1 I like to visit places ... nobody else goes.
- 2 The island ... I go on holiday is a beautiful place.
- 3 I spoke to the woman ... daughter I know.
- 4 Linda is the student ... exam results were fantastic.
- 5 That was the year ... I started playing the guitar.
- 6 This is the place ... your parents met each other for the first time.

REMEMBER!

Non-Defining Relative Clauses

Описові означальні речення дають додаткову інформацію про іменник. Такі речення завжди виділяються комами.

Example: London, which is the capital of England, has a population of 10 mln people.

My uncle George, who is in hospital now, likes to play with matches. My office, where I work every day, is painted yellow.

'That' ніколи не вживається

з описовим означальним реченням.

Типова помилка: Larry Lorry, that lives in London, loves lilies. Правильне речення: Larry Lorry, who lives in London, loves lilies.

3 Copy and add commas to change these defining relative clauses to non-defining relative ones.

- 1 My friend who has a red bicycle wants to sign up for the Tour de France.
- 2 The city where more than a million people live never sleeps.
- 3 The gorilla which ran away from the zoo is hiding somewhere in the forest.
- 4 Bettie's boss whose office is in New York bought Bettie a bouquet of flowers.
- 5 Cheetas which are yellow and have black spots can run up to 120 km/h.

4 Combine three given parts to form one non-defining relative clause.

Example: Victor's sister — does ballet — loves eating peanuts. Victor's sister, who does ballet, loves eating peanuts.

- a The statue made of pure gold has been stolen.
- b Ottawa capital of Canada is very cold in wintertime.
- c My uncle's farm we go to every summer is the best place on Earth.
- d Dan my brother-in-law has his own successful business.
- e Tina you liked her photos so much is coming to visit us tonight.

5 Match the beginnings with the endings to make correct sentences.

- 1 We met your friend
- 2 Giraffes are animals
- 3 Thomas Edison was the scientist
- 4 I've got some relatives
- 5 Vesuvius is the volcano
- 6 The Beatles recorded songs
- 7 There is a ferry
- 8 A microwave is a machine

- a that were popular all over the world.
- b who plays the violin.
- c that goes from Venice to Corfu.
- d who invented the electric light.
- e that cooks food quickly.
- f which come from Africa.
- g who were born in Turkey.
- h which destroyed the city of Pompeii.

6 Put letter 'd' if the relative clause is defining or letter 'n' if it is non-defining.

□ 1	The programme that I watched on TV last night was very interesting.
□ 2	My dog, which I bought a year ago, has given birth to 8 puppies!
□3	Walter's grandmother, who lives in Scotland, got married yesterday.

¹to invent [ɪnˈvent]— винайти

□ 4	Jessica and John, who have moved in next door, are both dentists.
□ 5	The tree we planted last month is growing nicely.
□6	Bill Gates, who is the richest man on earth, lives in Medina, Washington.
□ 7	My child who's afraid of spiders wants to go camping this weekend.
□8	The man that I told you about has asked Minnie out on a date.
□9	The hotel, where you can book a room, has two swimming pools and a bar.
□ 10	The shop where you can buy a map is just down the road from here.

R U ALWAYS PLUGGED IN?

Ana's friend has come over to her place.

Ana: Hi. Good to see you. How are you?

Sara: Dead bored. I see you're plugged in again. Just like always.

Ana: I'm just watching Gloria Glam on Youtube. I can forward you the address.

Sara: Don't. I hardly ever go online. Internet's boring. And Gloria Glam sucks.

Ana: Come on! Internet's amazing! I always look for the words I'm interested in. There's fantastic stuff like this film about St Bernard's puppies. They're so cute...

Sara: Not interested, thanx. Animals smell.

Ana: Come on, Sara. You should find yourself some passion, some interest.

Sara: You sound like my mum. She keeps saying: Why don't you take up swimming? Why don't you play the piano? Why don't you collect boxes? Boxes! Hallo!

Ana: I like boxes, too. I think they are mysterious.

Sara: A wooden box. Some mystery! You open it and see there's nothing inside. Aaaah! (She yawns.) I'm so bored.

b) Speak on the following.

Which girl has got a lot of interests?

Asking for Preferences

Preference is liking one thing better than another.

The expressions of asking for and stating preferences may be divided into formal and those used with friends (informal).

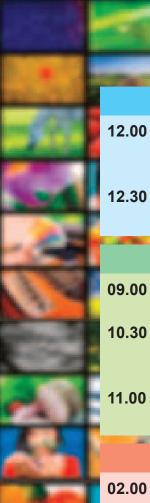

Here are some helpful phrases:

- Which do you prefer / like better, football or tennis?
- What would you prefer, to watch news or a quiz show?
- Do you feel like watching drama? (informal) Possible Answers:
- Well, I'm not all that keen, actually.
- No, not really, I'd prefer to watch a quiz show.
- Oh, I don't mind watching drama.
- Well, I must say I don't really have any preferences here.
- I must say both sound equally good to me.
- No, thank you, I'd rather not watch TV.
- I'd rather watch football.
- 3 a) Work in pairs. Say how many different kinds of TV programmes you can think of. Read a page from a TV guide and see if you can find them.
 - b) Decide what you would like to watch today. Then talk to your partner and compare your choices.

- How much TV do you watch?
- When do you usually watch it?
- What do you never watch?
- What's your favourite programme?
- Do your parents let you stay up late and watch the late TV shows or films?

5 a) Work in pairs. Choose five products which TV commercials most often advertise.

cars	pet food	cleaning products	food
shampoos	drinks	mobile phones	toothpaste
trainers	make-up	chewing gum	snacks

b) Share your ideas with each other. Consider the following questions.

- Do you like watching commercials? Why? Why not?
- Are there too many commercials on TV?
- How do you feel when they show commercials in the middle of a good film or an interesting match? What do you do? Do you switch channels?
- If you like the commercial, do you want to buy the product it advertises?
- Are commercials always true?
- Can you name some famous people who are in commercials? What do they advertise?

6 Share what you prefer to watch on TV and explain why opinions about TV programmes differ. You may start like this:

As for me, I always try to watch interesting films, different TV games and musical programmes. Political shows take up a lot of time on TV, but I don't like them. As for films, I prefer thrillers or detectives. Different quiz-shows are also very popular with members of my family...

sports events; symphony concerts; the Animal World; travels and travellers; meetings and discussions between famous people; poets reading their own poems, interviews with famous people; talks on history, geography, science; old songs and new; critics talking about new books, films, plays, works of art; competitions and guizzes

7 Discuss the answers to the questions in a small group.

- a Do you like programmes made in Ukraine?
- b How well do you know BBC World, CNN, MTV, Viva or Star TV? What do you think of them? What language do they broadcast in?
- c What other global channels do you watch? Do you listen to any foreign radio stations? Which ones? What language do global broadcasters use today?
- d How can satellite TV help language learners?

WRITING

1 Write a paragraph about the role of mass media in our life. Consider the items below.

- How do you find out what's happening in the world?
- Do you ever listen to the radio? What programmes do you like?
- How important is TV to you?
- Do you like the same TV programmes as your parents?
- What's the difference between reading the news in the newspaper and watching it on TV?
- Do you think computers will replace newspapers and TV in the future?

2 Describe a game show on television in Ukraine. Make your description according to the questions below. Include relative clauses where possible.

- What is the name of the programme?
- When is it on?
- Who is the host / hostess?
- Who are the contestants?
- What do the contestants have to do?
- How do people score?
- How do contestants win?
- What do the winners get?

CAREER CHOICES

READING & VOCABULARY

- 1 Read the article and be ready to answer the following questions.
 - What idea has become old-fashioned?
 - Where will many people work in the future?
 - Which skills have become very important?

One of the most important decisions in the life of every person is to choose the right career or occupation. With hundreds jobs to choose from, it's never too early to begin thinking about your future career.

As a teenager today, you work for can expect to approximately 40 years. During this time, you may have several jobs. Changes in the world will affect the jobs available. The idea of a 'job for life' has already become old-fashioned. In the future most people will work for several companies instead of just for one. A lot of people work from already home. connected to the Internet, and there will be many more in the years to come.

We often speak of full-time jobs or part-time jobs, regular jobs or odd jobs. People may lose their jobs, become unemployed and have to look for new jobs. Different jobs require different things. For example, some require special training and meeting people, others require a good imagination or travelling a lot, physical strength or working late hours...

Choosing a career is not easy. A lot of people are encouraged by their teachers, parents and friends. Some people change their minds many times or follow in someone's footsteps. Others are influenced by certain people or certain events. When you look for a career, you should look carefully at all aspects of the job. You must also take a good look at yourself.

Firstly, it is important to consider your interests. You may enjoy working with people, or you may enjoy working with your hands. You may like reading, using words, and writing. Numbers and solving problems may hold a special appeal to you.

Secondly, you should find out what your aptitudes are. Your aptitudes are your natural abilities or talents. An aptitude means it is easy for you to learn certain things. One way to focus on your aptitudes is to ask yourself some questions:

- In what school subjects do I get the highest marks?
- What talents or natural abilities do I seem to have? (talking, writing, singing, painting or taking objects apart and putting them back together)
- What do I think I could learn to do well?
- What do other people think I could do?

Besides, there are special aptitude tests you can take. Careers officers can help and advise young people to get good training in order to have some skills.

Thirdly, different people are good at different skills. A skill is the learnt capacity for doing something. For example, you can possess skills in typing, drafting, cooking, sewing and auto repair. It's useful to learn the skills like leadership skills, teamwork skills, critical thinking, writing and reading skills, etc.

Communication skills, in general, should be at the top of the list. Communicating with people, especially from other cultures, understanding their minds and culture, will be even more important in the future. English has become the international language of communication. Millions of people use it in their jobs every day. In the future most people will need English for their jobs.

We live in the computer age. There are about 100 million computers in the world at the moment. You don't need to be a computer genius to work with a computer but your computer skills need to be good and you have to work on them all the time.

Education is important in your future career prospects. A high school graduate has a better chance. Specialised training opens up even more job opportunities. You can get this training in vocational high school, in a college, in vocational-technical school, or through on-the-job training.

REMEMBER!

A career is a professional growth a person does in his or her life, usually in one field.

A job is the work that a person does regularly in order to earn money.

A profession is a job that requires special training, often a university education.

An occupation is a job or profession.

HELEN HUNT IS A CAREER OFFICER IN MANCHESTER

Career choices are certainly changing. Traditionally, girls used to choose jobs like working in shops, nursing or teaching. Nowadays, they are more interested in other jobs, like advertising, the computer industry and even some unusual jobs like car mechanics. Boys are also interested in all kinds of jobs. We try to make them aware of all job possibilities.

Take housekeeping, for example. We have had some boys who have chosen it as their career and they are doing fine. The important thing, of course, is to judge somebody's work by how a person does it, not by what sex a person is. We have visited a lot of schools and talked to many pupils and parents. We have noticed that in families where boys and girls share the housework equally, children are more open to different careers and jobs. Everything begins at home,

I would say.

 - 7 In families where boys and girls share the housework, children are ...
- 13 a) Read and speak on what some young people say in their letters about their ambitions and plans for the summer.

This hasn't been a good year for me. I'm sick and tired of school, teachers and marks. This summer I'd like to sleep a lot and forget about everything. I have a feeling I'm not going to do it, though. My parents are very unhappy with my marks so I'm probably going to take some summer courses to improve my marks. Pete Football is number one for me. I don't like school. I'm going to leave school as soon as possible. I'd like to be a professional footballer and get a place in the national team. Football is everything: money, fame and travelling. This summer I'm going to spend 3 weeks in the camp for talented young footballers. I'm going to work hard, I know, but some important people are going to be there and who knows? Maybe I won't have to go back to school ever again.

Paul

My friends say I'm weird but I don't care. All I care about is the environment. I'd like to be an ecologist one day. I've taken part in many campaigns. My first one was against the fast food industry. I was only 9 years old at the time. This summer I'm going to lead a campaign against the local supermarket chain. They want to build a shopping centre on an area of woodland near my home.

Lessons 1-2

I'm crazy about travelling. Every summer I try to see a new country. I've already been to many places. On my bike, of course. I'd like to travel all over the world on it. This summer we're going to spend 5 weeks touring Scandinavia. It's going to be fun, I'm sure.

Chris

b) Fill in the grid based on the information from the letters above.

Name	Ambition would like to	Plan is going to 14 Ask and answer in pairs, then report back to the class.

- a Are you interested in foreign languages? How many can you speak?
- b Would you like to get a babysitting job in a foreign country?
- c Are you crazy about travelling? What are you crazy about?
- d Have you ever taken part in a campaign against or for something? What was it?
- e Have you ever won a competition?
- f Have you taken up any new activities or sports recently? What are they?
- g Are you sick and tired of school and marks?
- h Are you going to take any courses this summer?
- i Do you need to improve your marks?
- j What do you often volunteer to do at home or at school?
- 15 Discuss in groups which of the jobs are traditional career choices for men and which are traditional career choices for women in Ukraine. Don't forget the jobs you mentioned before.

1 Read the sentences and try to guess the meaning of the words in hold.

The floor is the people attending a public meeting or the public meeting place where people sit. The studio floor is the place where we can see studio audiences. The floor manager organises the work on the studio floor following the instructions of the director of a programme. He or she gets the director's instructions through the headphones which he or she has on his ears. The floor manager doesn't use a microphone. He or she uses gestures or signs.

TV MOZAIC

- (1) Some of us are ready to spend hours in front of the blue screens of our home cinema theatres, which sometimes demonstrate new and unusual shows. One of them is called Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?.
- (2) The show is a worldwide hit. The contestants are ordinary¹ people chosen from those who ring a special telephone number. The programme makers don't meet the contestants until they arrive at the station. To win the jackpot a contestant has to answer 15 questions correctly. For each of these, they are shown the questions and four possible answers before deciding whether to play on or not. Then the contestant chooses an answer. If it is correct, they can stay in the game.

¹ordinary [ˈɔːdɪnri] — звичайний

- (3) The programme is very popular because viewers like to see ordinary people making decisions. When a contestant thinks he knows the answer but isn't sure there is an excitement in the studio. The music becomes louder and the cold blue lights become darker. Some contestants take up to 15 minutes to answer a question, but we only see their worst moments. The fact that we can see the answers on the screen makes the game seem easier. All the time, the cameras take lots of pictures of the contestant struggling with the decision. This is a part of the appeal¹.
- (4) For the viewers the show offers a chance to feel that they could do better than any of the players, for the contestant a chance to win a lot of money and to be a star for a short moment.

¹an appeal [əˈpiːl] — заклик, звернення (5) What does it take to make a top programme on TV? Lots of imagination, lots of energy, and lots of people. Who are these people?

Here you are.

The director is responsible for the programme. From the control room, the director decides which images to use at each stage.

It's a very tiring job. The director must discuss the programme with the presenters before the show goes on air.

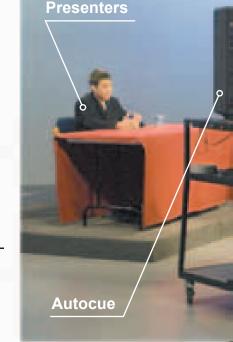

The floor manager is the director's representative on the studio floor. He/she doesn't have to make many decisions: the director's instructions come through headphones. The floor manager must follow the director's instructions and orders.

The camera operators must instructions on where to take the camera. They should have enough technical expertise¹ to change camera lenses².

The sound engineers control everything from microphones to mixing desks with a thousand lights and buttons. They are technical experts but they shouldn't ignore the director's instructions.

The presenters or the talk show hosts all have to arrive at the studios early enough for the make-up session. All presenters, male and female³, have to wear make-up because the cameras can make people look funny. Presenters don't have to learn their lines because they can read them from the autocue⁴.

There are many other people: the vision manager, the production secretary, several technicians, and many others. It really takes a crowd to make a TV show!

- (6) Everyone mentioned above is necessary but a face of any TV channel greatly depends on its announcers.
- (7) What is the right personality to give a face to TV programme? There are several answers. A good appearance (an attractive face and a reasonably good figure) and the ability to hold himself / herself well.

Next comes intelligence and a good memory. Then you should have a friendly and likeable manner. The right kind of voice is important. And in this connection confidence is the most important thing of all, the ability to be posed and at ease before the cameras. If you have this gift by nature, you've gained a fortune: not too many have it. The majority of people start thinking about it when they face a microphone or a camera.

3 Work in pairs to answer the questions.

- a What is the director responsible for?
- b What is the floor manager? What are his duties?
- c Must the camera operator have technical expertise?
- d What does the sound engineer do?
- e Is it necessary for the presenters to learn their lines?
- f What other people are in the process of making a show?

4 Work in groups. Discuss the following items.

- Which of the qualities of a TV announcer mentioned in the article do you consider really very important and which ones, in your opinion, do not matter a lot?
- Are there any other qualities to be considered in addition to those mentioned in the text?
- Name a successful host of some TV programme. Explain your choice.

- Express your opinion about the role of the talk-show host.
- Do you agree that television created many popular personalities?
- Name a well-known TV announcer, a famous singer, a TV sporting reporter who enjoys popularity, a popular TV journalist and say what made these people so popular. What attracts the TV-viewers?

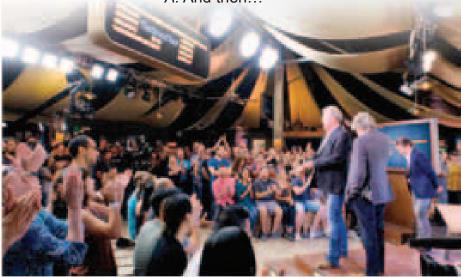

5 Read and role-play the situation in pairs.

It's easy to visit a TV studio in the UK because a lot of programmes have studio audiences. If you phone the local TV station, they'll tell you when to visit, and which programmes you can see. Imagine you are telling your friend about your visit to the studio. Your friend is asking questions. You may start like this:

A: First they told us to wait in a queue.

B: Oh, yeah? (Really?)

A: And then...

6 Write a paragraph about a TV programme which appeals to you most.

THE SCIENCE MUSEUM

You don't like Science? Physics gives you a headache? You'll definitely change your mind if you go to the Science Museum, which is an amazing place to visit even if you're not interested in science. It is fascinating to see so many remarkable inventions which humanity has created. They are wonderfully restored and displayed in chronological order, telling the story of man's technological and scientific achievements. Steam engines, locomotives, fullsized aeroplanes and helicopters, cars, space shuttles and the earliest and latest computers are included in its various collections, as well as such historic exhibits as Puffing Billy

Puffing Billy

(the oldest steam locomotive), a reconstruction of Crick and Watson's model of DNA or an Apollo space capsule. And these are just some of the amazing things which aren't seen every day. But, what makes this museum so special? Throughout the museum there are many interactive exhibits where you can see for yourself how they work.

For example, there's a light aeroplane which is fastened to the floor, so you can climb into the pilot's cabin and see how the tail moves when you move the controls. And for those who think that science is complicated, at the Science Museum you can do experiments, solve scientific problems, and see how it all makes sense. Science and nature documentaries are shown in the IMAX 3D Cinema, some of them in 3-D. No wonder this awesome place is often compared to a theme park about science, which is why it is visited by hundreds of tourists every day, and is especially enjoyed by young people.

(A)Dear 'English Bridge', I'd like to tell about the invention of telephone. It was invented by Alexander Bell in 1875. Alexander Bell was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. When his family went to America, he was given a teaching position with deaf 1 people and he became interested in speech. His work was financed by the father of one of his pupils. The story goes that Bell invented the telephone by accident. At that time he was experimenting with the telegraph. He spilled some acid² and called his assistant. "Come here, Mr Watson, I want to see you." Watson was in the other room and he heard Bell through apparatus3. The first telephone exchange which connected 21 people happened in 1878. The first communication satellite was launched in 1962.

Hí, everybody!

I think that one of the most important inventions for the mankind is the first accurate clock which was designed by Christian Huygens in 1657. Christian Huygens was born in the Hague, Holland.

Mechanical clocks were made in the 14th century but they were too inaccurate to have minute hands².

Shadow clocks³ or sundials are the oldest instruments for telling the time. They were developed more than 4,000 years ago. Water clocks were used in ancient Egypt. Time was measured⁴ by how long it took water to flow out of holes in a container. Sand clocks were used in the Middle Ages. If they took an hour to empty they were called hourglasses⁵.

Today they are still often used as kitchen egg-timers⁶.

Pocket watches were invented in about 1500 and wristwatches started to get popular around 1900 when they were made mainly in France and Switzerland.

With my best wishes, Julia

NATURE AND THE ENVIRONMENT

READING & VOCABULARY

- 1 Choose the correct word to complete the sentences that describe the world today.
 - 1 The population of the world is (growing / becoming) smaller.
 - 2 Our climate is changing. The world is becoming (colder / warmer). The Arctic ice is melting.
 - 3 (Not everybody / Everybody) has clean water. There are dry places and polluted rivers.
 - 4 We produce (little / a lot of) rubbish.
 - 5 There (are / aren't) many endangered animal and plant species.
- 2 Match each sentence in Task 1 with one prediction about the future of the world below.

A lot of people will be thirsty.
☐ There will be many more people in the world.
☐ They will disappear.
Rubbish will pollute the land and the sea.
☐ Polar bears won't have enough space to hunt.

3 Match the words with the pictures.

- 1 Climate change
- 2 Rubbish
- 3 Growing population
- 4 Pollution
- 5 Endangered animals and plants

- 4 Work in groups. Answer each question and then read the text. Compare your answers with those in the text. Are they similar?
 - 1 Is population growing in all parts of the world?

 The world population is growing. Every day 200.000 people are born on our planet. That's a lot of babies! In the future there will be many more people and they will need more food, water, houses and energy. Most children are born in poor countries. Many of them don't have enough food and don't go to school. In some countries in Europe there are not many children and families are becoming smaller. Do you know anybody who has many brothers and sisters?

Something is happening to our climate. It is getting warmer. Our springs and summers are very hot and there isn't so much snow in winter. The Arctic ice is melting. Earth's climate has changed many times. There have been ice ages and warmer periods but now these changes are happening fast. Are we responsible for this? Most scientists (but not all) say yes. We need to stop the global warming.

3 Why do we need water?

Nobody can live without water. Everybody needs it for drinking, cooking and washing. However, for one in five people in the world it is difficult to get clean water. I hope you are somebody who turns off the water in the bathroom and in the kitchen, and doesn't leave it running for nothing. We must be careful with water. We have to save it. Pessimists say that we won't have enough water in the future. We will be thirsty!

4 Why do we produce so much rubbish?

Our cars and our factories pollute the air. Many rivers and lakes are also polluted. And on land there is rubbish everywhere. It is ugly to see this, and it is dangerous for wild animals. Do we want a world like that? We go shopping and bring home plastic bags. We want new things all the time. We buy a new mobile phone and throw away the old one. When you throw something away, it doesn't just disappear.

Can we do anything about it?

5 What is the best way to protect endangered animals and plants?

Many plants and animals are in danger. We are destroying the places where they live. The best way to save them is to protect these places. Forest and jungle animals and plants are in danger because we are cutting down trees. It is difficult for animals in the sea because the sea is becoming polluted and there is too much fishing. Polar bears can only hunt on ice, but every year more and more ice disappears. Plants and animals are able to change. It is called evolution. But the evolution is very slow and we are changing our world quickly. Some species will be able to follow the changes.

For example, foxes now often come to town to look for rubbish. But 6 Look at the charts below and explain the following.

What is the environment?

7 a) Read the letters and speak on kids' opinions about saving the Earth.

I think there are a lot of ways we can help to save the Earth. One way is to remember the three Rs. I save the plastic bags we get at the grocery store and use them again. I save plastic food containers. They make good toys to play in sand and water. Before I buy something, I ask myself the following questions, "Do I really need this? Is it recyclable? If I have to throw it away, will it harm the environment?"

I have a bird feeder that I fill by myself. I want to be the kid who saves the Earth!

Jackie

SAVE OUR PRANTE

The problem of the environment is much spoken about on TV, radio, and in the newspapers. But my friends and I don't really talk about it. I know Greenpeace and Friends of the Earth. But in our school we don't have an environmental programme. There are special magazines about nature. My favourite magazine is the Sport News. I'm in the school football team. We play football twice a week. I'm going to be a football star.

Nick

8 Work in pairs to answer the questions.

- Do you think Jackie is a person who is saving the Earth? Why?
- Which of the three Rs does she remember to follow? How does she reuse things?
- Does Nick follow the three Rs rules? Why doesn't he help to keep the world healthy?

9 a) Copy the grid on page 152. Read the following explanations and match them with the words from the box.

ecology, pollution, energy, cars, the Earth, rainforest, nuclear testing, garbage, environmental problems, animals in danger

- 1 It is rubbish, waste or other things we throw away.
- 2 It is a thick forest in tropical parts of the world, like in Amazon area.
- 3 It is our planet.

- 5 They are experiments with nuclear weapons (like bombs).
- 6 It is the process of making our environment dirty and unhealthy for living.
- 7 It can come from nuclear, electrical, solar or wind power.
- 8 It is a very big problem of our time. If we don't protect them, they will disappear forever.
- 9 A great deal of pollution comes from the fumes (gases) they give off. We should walk or use bikes instead, whenever we can.

9	garbage

10 It is the science that studies the relations of plants, animals and people to each other and to their environment.

The first letters of the words give you a name of a very important international organisation which works to protect the environment.

b) How many definitions can you learn by heart in two minutes? Say them to your group.

LISTENING

1	Here are some questions from the quiz
	How many can you answer?

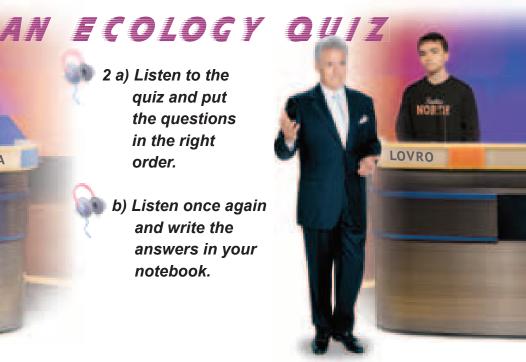

1	Name at least two examples of a climate change.
2	Name at least two types of renewable energy.
3	What is the greenhouse effect?
4	Which of these gases is not a greenhouse gas: carbon dioxide, methane or oxygen?

- 5 Complete the three Rs that are important for the future of our planet: reduce, reuse and ...
- 6 Name at least two consequences of global warming.

2 a) Listen to the quiz and put the questions in the right order.

b) Listen once again and write the answers in your notebook.

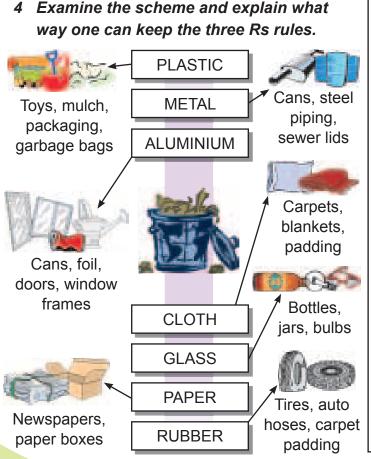

3 a) Listen about the environment protection programme and explain what a 'green school' is.

SPEAKING

1 Read and guess the meanings of these opinions.

2 a) Read the definitions and guess the meanings of the words in bold.

When a plant or animal is gone forever, we say it is extinct. The natural habitat is a place where an animal or a plant is normally found.

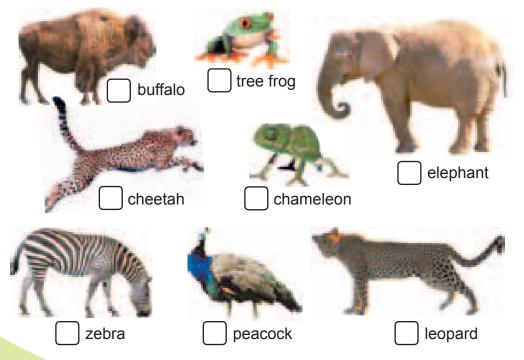

Endangered species are groups of plants or animals that are in danger of becoming extinct.

b) Guess the problems and make sentences.

			for sport.
The African	I		for its tusks.
elephant		used	for their horns.
Panda		killed	by water pollution.
	is	hunted	for their shell and meat.
Rhinos	are	caught	by other animals.
Sea turtles		eaten	by the disappearance of bamboo.
Horn		endangered	by the growing population of Africa.
Ivory tusks		_	as a medicine.
			for making jewellery.

3 In small groups, do the tasks below.

a) Imagine that you're a member of a team that is working to save 8 endangered species below. Look over the list carefully and then number the animals in the order in which you would try to save them, from 1 (the most important species to save) to 8 (the least important).

b) Discuss the questions.

- 1 What basis did you decide your ranking on: usefulness to humans? beauty? size? species that live in your country?
- 2 Why are most people more interested in saving larger and more beautiful animals than smaller and less beautiful ones?

DO YOU KNOW?

every person produces about 650 tons of garbage during his/ her lifetime.

Some scientists say that one species of plant, animal or insect becomes extinct every day. In the next 20 years, one-fifth of all species could become extinct.

Forests cover 30% of the Earth's land. They produce oxygen. Protecting all the forests is the key to our survival.

We are running out of space in which we can get rid of garbage.
One solution to this problem is recycling.

Eight million tons of oil are spilled into the Earths' oceans every year.

One ton of recycled paper can save 17 trees.

Glass produced from recycled glass reduces related air pollution by 20% and water pollution by 50%.

Oceans cover more than 70% of the Earth's surface. Life began in the oceans. Today, coastal waters have become very polluted, and whales and dolphins are killed in great numbers.

4 Read the information and agree or disagree with the statements below.

- 1 It is important to recycle old paper.
- 2 Forests are not terribly important for us.
- 3 Ocean and sea life are in danger.
- 4 Oil spills are a great source of pollution.
- 5 Not very many species are in danger of becoming extinct.
- 6 We still have enough space for garbage.
- 7 It is environmentally friendly to produce glass from recycled glass.

No 1. I agree. We should recycle old paper in order to save woods and forests on the planet.

5 a) Get some information and answer the questions.

ZSL LONDON ZOO

> In London Zoo there is a problem now. It is very expensive to keep animals. The animals are given to those who can take care of them.

What animal would you adopt? Why?

- 7 a) Say how you think everyone can show his/her concern with the cleanliness and beauty of the place where he/she lives. You may use the following:
 - plant greenery;
 - protect trees in parks and yards;
 - take care of:
 - preserve a healthy and clean environment;
- keep the greenery fresh;
- not to pollute with;
- keep clean;
- collect rubbish.

b) Speak on your contribution.

What do you do to keep your city clean?

A cause is what produces an effect, which makes a thing happen.

A reason is a fact which is put forward as a motive or an explanation in order to justify some conclusion.

8 a) Work in groups.

Sum up the ecological problems and mention their reasons.

b) Play an Ecology Problems Game. Make a list of practical ways to help our planet. Use the words mentioned in the box below.

Example:

- 1 We shouldn't leave the lights on and waste electricity.
- 2 We should always write on both sides of the paper to save it.

b) Read the following reactions to suggestions.

Divide them into 3 groups: positive, negative and neutral.

Why not? That's a good idea! I suppose you're right. Now you're talking. What good would that do? Do you really think that would work?

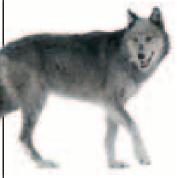

c) Work in small groups. Use the expressions above in a discussion about an environmental issue you are interested in.

DO YOU KNOW?

Ukraine is famous for its beautiful nature. There are many picturesque places in the Carpathians and Polissia. Hares and deer, wolves and foxes are part of a wildlife of these areas. There are more than 3,000 lakes with lots of fish (like the Shatsk lakes) in the north-west.

The wolf is the largest member of the dog family. It is one of the most valuable predators. Wolves live in thick forests but their natural habitat is shrinking. The wolf is a negative figure in many fairy tales. The main causes of their dying out are: illegal shooting, killing on roads and a lack of food.

The white stork is considered to bring good luck in many European countries. However, their number is getting smaller. In many Ukrainian villages storks fly freely around. Life has shown that with the help of local inhabitants it is possible to preserve the

- 1 Choose animals which are endangered species in Ukraine and write your action plan to protect them.
 - 1 Read about the animals to get information about their lifestyles.

A GENTLE GENIUS

1. If someone calls you an 'Einstein' ['aɪnstaɪn], consider it a compliment. It means that you are compared to one of the greatest minds of the twentieth century. Actually, many people believe that he was one of the most intelligent people ever born. He had the IQ (intelligence quotient) of a genius.

- 2. Albert Einstein was not only a genius but also a gentle man. He loved music, children and sailing. He wore his shoes without socks and he rarely had a haircut. He is called a genius because many of his scientific discoveries were far ahead of their time. He is remembered as a gentle person because he believed that all nations should live without war. He often spoke for peace.
- 3. Albert was born in Ulm, Germany. He was an unusual child. He seemed to be very slow and dreamy and his parents were worried about him. He started to talk later than most children did.

As a schoolboy, he thought a long time before answering questions. But he was far from being stupid. He learned mathematics and loved to use it in thinking about science.

VOCABULARY BOX

a genius ['dʒi:niəs]
a quotient ['kwəoʃənt] publicity [pʌ'blɪsɪti]
relativity [ˌrelə'tɪvɪti]

- 4. He studied physics in Switzerland where he got his first job. In his spare time, he wrote out some of his original ideas on physics. In 1905 he published an article on his special theory of relativity. It caused a sensation among scientists. In the article he said that the basic qualities of objects (mass, length and time) changed when they moved at high speeds, closer to the speed of light.
- 5. In 1914 Einstein moved to Germany. He got a teaching job at the Royal Prussian Academy of Sciences. Four months later, Germany went to war. World War I started. Einstein made himself very unpopular because he was against the war.

In 1921 he got the Nobel Prize in physics. He became very famous, almost like a movie star. His picture was in many newspapers but he was a shy man and didn't like the publicity much. However, when Hitler came to power in Germany, Einstein decided to speak for peace. He said it was wrong for one person to kill another and that all men should refuse to be soldiers. Hitler didn't like any of his beliefs. There was another problem. Einstein was Jewish and Hitler hated Jews.

Einstein's life was in danger and that was why he and his wife moved to the United States.

6. During World War II Einstein was worried that German scientists, controlled by Hitler, would create the atomic bomb which would help Germany win the war. Even though Einstein never took any part in the creation of the bomb, it was partly his ideas that helped scientists make it. He knew very well how dangerous such a bomb would be.

Close to the end of World War II American scientists developed the bomb first. When Einstein found out about it he wrote to the American President asking him not to use the bomb because it was very, very dangerous. It made him very sad when the bomb was actually dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, in 1945. He wrote once: "Science is a powerful instrument. How it is used depends on man himself, not on the instrument. A knife is useful for the lives of human beings, but it can also be used to kill."

7. After World War II Einstein continued to work both for science and for peace. In 1955, he died in his sleep at the age of seventy-six.

 - c) Make up sentences with the words and word-combinations.

thanks to to be surrounded by to be washed by to produce to be situated in to consist of to border the official name

d) Say what you know about the geographical position of the UK.

3 Read the text and say what new information you've discovered about the country. Guess the meanings of the words in bold.

The UK is made up of England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. The rest of Ireland is an independent country.

The official name of the country is the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. 'Great Britain' refers only to England, Scotland and Wales, not to Northern Ireland.

There are also several islands which are closely linked with the UK but are not a part of it: the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man. They have their own governments and are called 'Crown dependencies'. There are also several British overseas territories in other parts of the world, such as St Helena and the Falkland Islands. They are also linked to the UK but are not a part of it.

The UK is located in the north west of Europe. The longest distance on the mainland is from John O'Groats on the north coast of Scotland to Land's End in the south-west corner of England. It is about 870 miles (approximately 1,400 kilometres).

The UK is governed by the parliament sitting in Westminster. Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland also have parliaments or assemblies of their own, with devolved¹ powers in defined areas.

The UK today is a more diverse society than it was 100 years ago, in both ethnic and religious terms. Post-war immigration means that nearly 10% of the population has a parent or grandparent born outside the UK. The UK continues to be a multinational and multiracial society with a rich and varied culture.

¹devolved [dɪˈvɒlvd] — переданий (про повноваження, владу)

Most people live in towns and cities but much of Britain is still a countryside. Many people continue to visit the countryside for holidays and for leisure activities such as walking, camping and fishing.

4 Say if the statements below are true or false.

- a The UK consists of England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland.
- b Great Britain doesn't refer to Northern Ireland.
- c The Isle of Man and Falkland Islands are a part of the UK.
- d Scotland has got its own parliament.
- e The longest distance on the mainland is about 1 400 km.
- f The population of the UK is multinational.
- g Most people live in the countryside.

5 Work in pairs.

a) Take it in turns to describe the photos below. Say which ones represent traditions of the country, and which ones represent ordinary life today.

- b) Look at your lists you've written in Task 1 and find out how many items are typical of the life of ordinary people who live in Britain today and how many of them are traditional items or stereotypes.
- 6 Do the quiz about the biggest part of the UK England.
 - 1 England is only one part of the United Kingdom. How many countries are there in the UK?
 - a) two b) three c) four d) five
 - 2 What's the capital of England?
 - a) Liverpool b) London c) Manchester d) Glasgow
 - 3 Who is the patron saint of England?
 - a) St George b) St Patrick c) St Andrew d) St David
 - 4 Which of these writers is not English?
 - a) Charles Dickens b) Agatha Christie
 - c) J.R.R. Tolkien d) Mark Twain
 - 5 Which of these actors is not English?
 - a) Rowan Atkinson b) Jude Law
 - c) Daniel Craig d) Ewan McGregor
- 7 Look at the England factfile and check your answers.

England

- England is the biggest part of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland. There are four countries in the UK — England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.
- It shares land borders with Scotland to the north and Wales to the west.
- England got its name from the Angles, one of the Germanic tribes who settled during the 5th and 6th centuries. In Old English the word Anglaland meant "land of the Angles".
- England's population is about 51 million, around 84% of the population of the UK.

England

- London is the capital of England and the UK. It's also the largest city in Europe.
- The national flag of England, known as St George's Cross, has been the national flag since the 13th century. In 1606, the St George Cross became part of the Union Jack, the flag of the United Kingdom.
- The patron saint of England is St George and the National Day of England is St George's Day, on 23 April.
- The national symbol of England is the Tudor rose, also known as the Rose of England.
- The most famous English universities are Oxford and Cambridge.
- The most popular sport in England is football, followed by cricket, rugby, tennis, badminton, squash and many others.
- Some famous English writers are William Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Agatha Christie, J.R.R. Tolkien and many others.
- There are a lot of famous singers from England: John Lennon, Paul McCartney, David Bowie, Robbie Williams, Mick Jagger, Elton John, to name just a few.
- Well-known English actors are Rowan Atkinson, Daniel Craig, Jude Law, Clive Owen, Michael Caine, etc.
- 8 Work in pairs. Student A prepares the questions A and student B prepares the questions B in their notebooks. Then ask the partner your questions with the books shut.

Wales

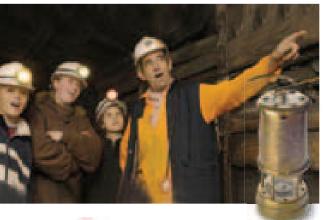

- Wales is a country that lies to the west of England, and shares a border with it.
- It has a population of just under 3 million people.
- The official languages are Welsh and English.
- About 20% of the population speak Welsh.
- The capital city is Cardiff.
- Much of Wales is mountainous. The highest mountain is Snowdon (1,085 m).
- The patron saint is St David. He is known as "David, the water drinker" since he drank only water and didn't eat meat. He was a vegetarian for spiritual reasons. He lived for over a hundred years.
- The symbols of Wales are the red Welsh dragon, the leek and the daffodil.
- The most popular sport is rugby.
- Wales is known for its sheep farming.
- People call Wales "the land of song" probably because of their sing-song intonation and also because the Welsh are very musical.
- Singers Shirley Bassey and Tom Jones are Welsh and so is the pop group the Manic Street Preachers.
- One of the most popular children's authors, Roald Dahl, was born in Wales (his parents were Norwegian) and Dylan Thomas was a famous Welsh writer poet.

CITIES OF THE UK

READING

1 a) Read and say what makes London a unique city.

WHAT IS LONDON?

Speaking about London you should remember that it is unlike any other city in the world. It has wide streets but low houses. This city has never been planned and it has many parts which are different from each other.

Modern London is really three cities: the City of London, a commercial and trade¹ centre, the City of Westminster (the West End) that can be called the historical centre of London with lots of historical places and famous parks, and the City of Southwark (the East End), where workers live.

London stands on the deep river Thames, which runs into the North Sea, so all kinds of ships can come into the port of London.

There is so much to see in London that even Londoners can always find new places of interest. They like to say, "When a man is tired of London, he is tired of life."

There are nearly 300 places of interest that are worth seeing in London. They range from magnificent National Gallery to Old

¹commercial and trade [kəˈmɜːʃl ənd treɪd] — комерційний і торговий

St Thomas' Operating Theatre, and from ancient Charterhouse to modern Canary Wharf. Among numerous museums, galleries, churches, parks and gardens there are ten top tourist attractions. Everyone who arrives to London for the first time should start with St Paul's Cathedral, Hampton Court, Buckingham Palace (Changing of the Guard), the British Museum, the National Gallery, Madam Tussaud's, the Houses of Parliament, the Tower of London and the Victoria and Albert Museum.

The oldest part of London is Lud Hill, where the city originated. About a mile west of it there is Westminster Palace, where the king lived and the Parliament met, and there is also Westminster Abbey, the coronation church. The British Museum is the largest and richest museum in the world. It was founded in 1753 and contains one of the world's richest collections of antiquities. The Egyptian Galleries contain human and animal mummies. Madam Tussaud's Museum is an exhibition of hundreds of life-size wax models of famous people of yesterday and today. Here you can meet Marilyn Monroe, Elton John, Picasso, the Royal Family, the Beatles and many others.

b) Ask and answer in pairs.

- 1 Why do they say that London is unlike any other city in the world?
- 2 What is modern London?
- 3 Where can you go to see historical places?
- 4 What part of London is good for doing shopping?
- 5 Why can all kinds of ships come into the port of London?
- 6 What do Londoners say about their city?
- 7 What is the oldest part of London?
- 8 What is Westminster Palace?
- 9 What is the largest and the richest museum in the world? What unique collections does it contain?
- 10 What can one see in Madam Tussaud's Museum?

2 a) Read the stories and match them with the people on page 206.

My friends like to go to Soho.
It is a district in the centre of London. It is known for its nightclubs, casinos and restaurants. I enjoy every evening spent there. And, of course, I like Piccadilly Circus, known for its lovely night-life.

I am interested in history.

And I am fond of going to museums. My favourite places in London are the Tower of London, the National Gallery, the Tate Gallery, the British Museum and, of course. Madame Tussaud's.

Sightseeing has become a hobby for many people. When tourists come to London, they visit Westminster Abbey first of all. That's because a lot of famous people are buried there. Then, there is Buckingham Palace, the official home of the British Royal family. My favourite sight in London is St Paul's Cathedral and, of course, I am fond of Hyde Park, St James' Park and Regent's Park. It's so nice to walk there in any weather!

I am a student of the Academy of Music. It's an important music college. I have a lot of friends who study in London. Some of my friends study at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts. We often meet in the library of the British Museum. We all love London very much.

I am fond of music, especially classical music. I am sure London is the right place for lovers of music. First of all, there is the Royal Opera House, which is called Covent Garden. I am a regular visitor of Albert Hall. Most of all I like the Promenades. It's a specific concert where there are no seats. You are free to come and go when you want. The Proms, as we call them, are extremely popular.

CARDIFF

It is a well-known fact that Cardiff is the capital of Wales. It lies near the mouth of the river Taff, which flows into the English Channel. Romans first occupied this place about 75 BC, they built a fort there. In the 3rd-4th centuries they built a massive wall around it. Nowadays people can still observe its traces. When Roman forces left Britain, all the people followed their example. Only 700 years later with the coming of Normans, they came back to live there again.

For some people today Cardiff seems too Victorian, too formal and too dignified. But in fact it is not really so. Cardiff is a relaxed city with a thriving cultural life. The New Theatre of Cardiff performs all kinds of music and entertainment.

You won't see dirty docklands and provincial mediocrity in Cardiff. The Castle is the first thing that catches visitor's eye. It is situated in the heart of the city and parkland and acres of greenery surround it. The Castle with its Roman foundation, medieval core and rich Victorian mansion presents itself as the best jewel in Cardiff's crown. Splendid neoclassical white-stoned architectural ensemble of the Civic Centre, the City Hall, National Museum, Law Courts and University buildings are wonderful sights of the city.

National Museum of Cardiff contains a world-class collection of impressionist paintings, it is considered one of the greatest collections outside Paris and St Petersburg.

Cardiff is quite an ancient town, but only in the 19th century did it become a centre of export trade in coal. The First and the Second World Wars stopped the demand for Welsh coal both at home and abroad, and the growth of the city almost stopped.

Cardiff today is not like what it was earlier. There are many shopping malls, Victorian shopping arcades, cafes, bistros and many places where one can taste the locally brewed beer.

Welcome to Cardiff!

- b) Make a list of ten questions to see if your classmates can answer them.
- 3 Read about Manchester, then ask and answer the questions after the text in pairs.

MANCHESTER

Manchester began when a wooden fort was built by the Roman army on a plateau about 80 AD. The fort was rebuilt in stone about 200 AD. Soon a civilian settlement grew up around the fort.

Manchester Crest

In the 7th century the Saxons created a new village, but it was tiny. The surrounding area was thinly populated and was mostly forest. The Saxons called any Roman town or fort a caester. They called the old fort at Manchester Mamm caester. The village nearby took its name from the fort. By 1086 the settlement was called Mamecester. In time the name changed to Manchester. In 919 the king repaired the old Roman fort as a defence against the Danes.

In the early 19th century Manchester became world famous as a manufacturing centre. Wool, silk and cotton were manufactured and vast numbers of working people worked 12 hour days in the mills. There were also a paper making industry and iron foundries. Manchester University was founded in 1903. The central library was built in 1934.

Today Manchester is a large city and it is situated in the Northwest of England. It stands on the River Irwell, which is a tributary of the Mersey River. Manchester is one of the major ports in England. It was famous for its wool and cotton industries but now it is a financial and business centre. When Britain was an Empire, Manchester was called a Cottonpolis for its cotton mills in the city and in the small towns around it.

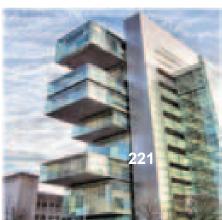

Manchester can also be proud of its Business School, which is the best in Britain. Music industry is also developing in Manchester, many pop and rock bands play in nightclubs. Everybody knows Manchester's two football teams — Manchester United and Manchester City.

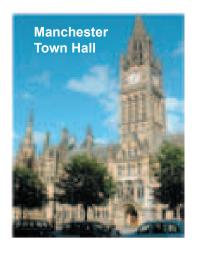

In general Manchester forms the opinion of a beautiful city, but unfortunately many of its old buildings were destroyed by the Irish RepublicanArmy bombing in 1996. It was an illegal military organisation which wanted Northern Ireland to leave the UK and become a part of the Irish Republic. In 1996 the city centre was ruined by IRA bombs but it was rebuilt. The phoenix rose from the ashes.

Lessons 1-2

6 Copy the map above, then read about the towns and add their names to it.

Leeds in West Yorkshire is a great commercial city, and its people are very proud of it. Some of the warehouses and factories which made it a wealthy city in the 18th and 19th centuries were destroyed some twenty to thirty years ago, but recently many have been renovated and developed for commercial or residential use. There are now many new buildings, as well as important historical buildings in the city centre.

Norwich was one of the chief provincial cities of medieval England. When its walls were constructed (1197-1223), they enclosed almost a square mile, an area as big as that of the City of London. By that time it had become the capital of East Anglia. Its majestic cathedral and the narrow winding streets around it still remind the visitor of those ancient times.

Durham. Whatever travellers see or do not see in England, they must see this city, in the north east, just south of Newcastle upon Tyne. No one can forget the sight of its cathedral and castle rising together on a steep hill overlooking a loop in the River Wear, which almost surrounds them. The cathedral itself is one of the great medieval buildings of Europe.

Edinburgh has long been the capital of Scotland. Edinburgh Castle is Edinburgh's principal building, dominating the city, perched on a rock over a hundred metres above sea level. Another important building is the Palace of Holyrood House, founded by James IV around 1500. In between the castle and the palace is the Royal Mile, which was the centre of Edinburgh life before the 17th century and is fascinating to visit now.

Liverpool, a port in the north west of England, has a quality that is not found in quite the same way anywhere else in England: the quality of grandeur. Liverpool has this grandeur in its site on the broad Mersey river (more than half a mile wide) with the houses rising above it; in its great dock buildings, its broad streets, and its two enormous cathedrals.

Brighton is a seaside resort on the English Channel. Only 50 miles (80km) from London, it offers a good variety of lively entertainment. It is a cheerful place, bustling and crowded in the summer, but alive at every season of the year. Its royal pavilion is a masterpiece of eccentric English architecture.

LVIV — FLORENCE OF EASTERN EUROPE

750 year-old Lviv is one of the oldest cities in Ukraine and the most peculiar in its historical development. The city is situated on the hills of the Roztochya Natural Reserve where the main European watershed lies. For its geographical position and historical tradition Lviv was meant to play a significant part in the life of Central and Eastern Europe.

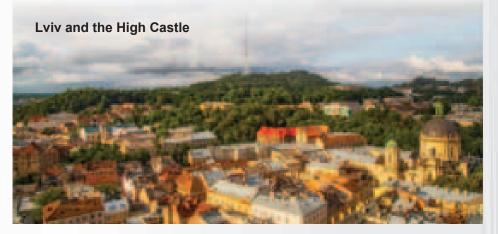

Lviv with its 830 000 inhabitants, mostly Ukrainians, occupies the territory of 155 sq km. The city is an important trade, educational, scientific and cultural centre. Foreign investment into this region is growing rapidly. Modern Lviv is a stunning urban panorama, splendid mix of different national traditions, hectic business life and open-hearted hospitality.

SIGHTS OF LVIV

The uniqueness of the city was formed under the influence of Mediterranean humanism between East and West. The central part of Lviv became a historical-architectural preserve and in 1998 was included into the UNESCO List of the World Heritage Sites. Lviv boasts about 2 000 historical, architectural and cultural monuments. The city centre is located in a place which is picturesquely surrounded by seven hills. Architectural masterpieces are framed by fresh greenery of the numerous parks. The inimitable architectural landscape of Lviv reflects the wise face of the Past, which is also concentrated in priceless exhibits of the museums and libraries. All this together with the enchanting atmosphere has made Lviv an important centre of international tourism.

Lviv offers a wide range of entertainment to its guests. Theatres and the Opera House in particular, galleries and concert halls, the big Circus, night and art clubs, swimming pools and tennis courts attract tourists.

THE PRINCE'S CITY

On the top point (413 m) of Lviv, in XIII century Prince Danylo of Halych built a castle for his son Leo, who gave his name to the city. Pidzamche is the area under the hill, which forms the preserve of the oldest cult buildings. Among them, the XIII-century St John the Baptist Church and St Nicholas Church, Neo-Roman Snowy Mary Cathedral (XIV century) and Renaissance Ensemble of the Benedictine Nunnery (1597).

The Ensemble of Greek Catholic St George Cathedral, the masterpiece of Rococo style, built by B. Meretini in the 18th century is adorned with the sculptures of the outstanding master Joseph Pinsel.

THE HEART OF OLD LVIV

Walking the narrow paved streets of Lviv, you come across the grey-haired Past everywhere. In the heart of old Lviv there are plenty of houses, which are worth your attention. First of all, it is

Lviv Opera House

Lviv St George Cathedral

the ensemble of the Rynok Square with the City Hall and 44 buildings, among which there are the Blackstone Palace, the Venetian House and the marvelous Royal Palace (today the History Museum) with its Italian Courtyard. You should not fail to visit the Pharmacy Museum (2, Drukarska Str.) which was founded in 1735. Here you can taste a healing 'iron wine' made according to the ancient recipe.

Teatralna Street leads to the Theatre of Stanislav Skarbek (today Theatre named after M.Zankovetska) which is built in the style of classicism. Nearby you can enjoy the view of the Jesuit Cathedral (XVII century), Natural History Museum, People's House (behind the statues of Venus and Mars). Next to it lies the Ivan Pidcova Square with a former Guard-House. Where Halytska Street crosses the Cathedral Square you will admire an architectural pearl of early XVII century – The Boims Chapel. The façade and interior will impress you with filigree stone carving. Rynok Square is fringed with picturesque little streets, each with its own peculiar atmosphere.

Lviv is a city of temples. Over 80 beautiful domes and towers of sacral buildings dominate the panorama of Lviv from the High Castle. The most fascinating ones are concentrated in the city centre. Various styles and building traditions blend into the harmonious mixture of Byzantine, Roman and Gothic as well as Renaissance, Baroque and Classicism. The Lvivians always demonstrated ethnic and religious tolerance. Different Christian churches co-exist in Lviv: Orthodox, Roman Catholic, Greek Catholic, Protestant and Armenian. There are Synagogues for the Jewish community.

THE CAPITAL OF GALICIA

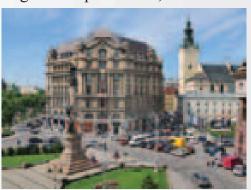

Next to the old city centre there is another one, which was formed in XIX – beginning of XX century. It is built mainly along the Shevchenko Avenue, the A. Mickiewicz Square and the Liberty Avenue. The Lvivians like to go for a walk there. This part of the city is unforgettably beautiful because of the houses built in the style of Art Nouveau and Historism – the George Hotel, the Ethnographic Museum, the National Museum and the others.

Liberty Avenue in the south direction is crowned with the marvelous Opera House built in 1900, with a dense sculptural-painting décor and a well-known curtain "Parnasus" by H. Siemiradzki. The imposing buildings of the new city centre were created in the "Austrian" epoch, when Lviv, as 'heart and mind' of the autonomous Galicia was living through the hectic technological development. Near the central avenues you can see other exciting civil and dwelling houses. Potocki Palace looks as if it was transferred here from the banks of the river Loire or Seine. The Copernicus street leads to the classical buildings – the Library named after V. Stefanyk.

The Park named after Franko is near the Central Post Office and the square in front of the park is occupied by the solemn building of the National University (former Parliament of Galicia). Your eye can catch the wonderful building of the Opera House, too.

The Lychakiv Cemetry

The A. Mickiewicz Square

Lviv is rich in valuable museum collections with rare ancient objects, masterpieces of the Ukrainian and West European fine arts, personal belongings of famous historic figures, ancient icons and sculptures. The Lychakiv Cemetry is a museum in the open. It is a preserve of memorial plastic art of late XVIII-XX centuries. Here lie the bodies of many outstanding Lyivians – politicians, scholars and artists.

SPEND YOUR TIME IN LVIV

You'll meet sincere and polite people in Lviv and will be pleased with good service. Comfortable hotels, tourist agencies with highlyskilled guides, stylish restaurants with unique dishes of Ukrainian, and Asian cuisine guarantee European excellent and enjoyable stay in the city.

GRAMMAR REFERENCE (Граматичний довідник)

ARTICLES A/AN — THE INDEFINITE ARTICLE

use	example
We use a before a consonant and an before a vowel. But it depends on the pronunciation of the following word, not the spelling.	a cat a uniform a one-day trip	an elephantan interesting storyan hour
We use a / an only with singular countable nouns.	a pencil	an orange
We use a / an with jobs.	She's a nurse.	He's an engineer.
We use a / an when we are talking about a person or thing for the first time.	We saw a girl with a dog.
We use the when we talk about it again.	The girl was very little and the dog was big.
We use a in some expressions when it means 'every'.	once a day (once every day) twice a year three times a week, etc.
We use a in some expressions of quantity.	a lot of people a number of pupils	a few questions
We use a in some fixed expressions.	have a cold have a headache take a picture	have (take) a bath /shower sleep like a log go for a walk, etc.

THE — THE DEFINITE ARTICLE

The means 'you know which one/ones I mean'. It can be used before any noun, singular or plural.

use	example
We use the when we talk about something that has been mentioned before.	I bought a shirt and a sweater. The shirt is red and the sweater is blue.
We use the when it is clear what we mean.	Open the door! (You can see which one.) Turn on the TV!

use	exa	mple
We use the with persons or things that are unique (there's only one).	When I was in Rome I Don't sit in the sun. It's	'
We use the with some time expressions.	· ·	in the morning at the weekend
We use the with musical instruments.	Can you play the piano?
We use the with superlatives and ordinal numbers.	She's the fastest runne today I was the first to
We use the with some names. a) with the names of rivers, seas and	the Amazon the Pacific Ocean	the Black Sea oceans b) with the names of groups of		the Alps islands and mountain ranges c) with the names of countries that	the United States the Republic of Croatia	a include a union, a republic or a	But: Croatia, England, the Hilton kingdom d) with the names of hotels, cinemas, theatres, museums and buildings e) with family names in the plural	the National Theatre the Empire State Build The Greens are comin	ding
We use the in some fixed expresions.	listen to the radio go to the cinema go to the doctor's call the police live at the seaside, live on the left, on the righ	, i

NO ARTICLEThere are a number of situations when we use no article.

use	example
We use no article with the names of people.	This is Paul Smith.
In general, we use no article with the names of continents, countries and cities.	He's from London. Brazil is a country in South America.
We use no article with the names of streets, squares, parks and bridges.	Tower Bridge, Hyde Park, Trafalgar Square and Oxford Street are all in London.
We use no article with the names of lakes, islands and mountains in the singular.	Lake Michigan is in the States. Ben Nevis is a mountain in Scotland.
We use no article with the names of languages, school subjects, sports and games.	Can you speak French? History is my favourite subject. He loves football and chess.

use	example
We use no article with the names of the days and months.	I'll see you on Monday. The course ends in June.
We use no article with the names of meals.	Let's have breakfast. What time is dinner? What time is supper?
We use no article in a number of common expressions.	go to school, go to work, go to church go home, at home go to prison / be in prison (as a prisoner) go to hospital / be in hospital (as a patient) go on holiday go to bed travel by car / by plane/ by bus/ by train come on foot fall in love, etc.

COUNTABLE — UNCOUNTABLE NOUNS

Countable nouns are those that can be counted (one apple, two apples, etc.). Uncountable nouns are those that cannot be counted (water, bread, etc.). Uncountable nouns take a singular verb and are not used with a/an.

use	example
Groups of uncountable nouns include:
mass nouns	milk, sugar, wine, etc.
subjects of study	Physics, History, Geography, etc.
sports	football, cricket, tennis languages	Arabic, French, Chinese diseases	chickenpox, malaria, measles
natural phenomena	rain, snow, mist
collective nouns	money, furniture, luggage certain other nouns	accommodation, anger, luck

SOME / ANY / NO & THEIR COMPOUNDS

Some, any and no are used with uncountable nouns and plural countable nouns: some water some potatoes.

use	example
Some and its compounds (somebody, someone, something, somewhere,	There is some wine left in the bottle.
etc.) are normally used in affirmative sentences.

use	example
Some and its compounds are also used in interrogative sentences when we expect a positive answer, for example when we make an offer or request.	Would you like something to drink?
Any and its compounds (anyone, anything, etc.) are usually used in interrogative sentences.	Has anyone seen Jim today?
Not any is used in negative sentences.	There isn't any petrol in the tank.
Any and its compounds can also be used with negative words such as without, never, rarely.	I have never met anyone like him before.
When any and its compounds are used in affirmative sentences there is a difference in meaning.	You can do anything you like. (it doesn't matter what) Anyone could have done that, (it doesn't matter who)
No and its compounds can be used instead of not any in negative sentences.	Laura didn't say anything. (= She said nothing) There wasn't anybody in the house. (= There was nobody in the house.)

Note: We use a singular verb with compounds of some, any and no. There is nothing they can do.

A FEW / FEW — A LITTLE / LITTLE

A few and few are used with plural countable nouns.

A little and little are used with uncountable nouns.

use	example
A few means 'not many, but enough'.	We have a few apples.
We can make an apple pie. Few means 'hardly any, almost none' and can be used with very for emphasis.	There were (very) few people queuing in the bank.
A little means 'not much, but enough'.	There is a little coffee left — would you like another cup?
Little means 'hardly any, almost none' and can be used with very for emphasis.	There is (very) little sugar left. I'll go and buy some.

A LOT OF / LOTS OF — MUCH — MANY

use	example
A lot of / lots of are used with both plural countable and uncountable nouns. They are normally used in affirmative sentences. The of is omitted when a lot / lots are not followed by a noun.	There are a lot / lots of oranges in the fridge. I can make some juice.
Much and many are usually used in negative or interrogative sentences. Much is used with uncountable nouns and many is used with plural countable nouns.	There aren't many parks in the centre of the city. Did you spend much money at the supermarket?
How much and how many are used in questions and negations. How much + uncountable noun → amount How many + countable noun → number	How much pepper shall I put in the soup? How many children do they have?
Too much is used with uncountable nouns. It has a negative meaning and shows that there is more of something than is wanted or needed.	He couldn't sleep because the children were making too much noise.
Too many is used with plural countable nouns. It has the same negative meaning as too much.	It was very crowded. There were too many people there.
We use many/much/some/any/most/(a) few/(a) little/several/one/two, etc. + of followed by the/that/this/ these/those and then a noun when talking about a specific group.	Some of the houses in that district are very expensive. (houses in that district) But: Some houses are very expensive. (houses in general)

PRONOUNS

	SONAL NOUNS	POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS	ABSOLUTE PRONOUNS
SUBJECT	OBJECT	(used with a noun)	(used without a noun)
I	me	my book	It's mine .
You	you	your cap	It's yours .
He	him	his room	It's his .
She	her	her room	It's hers .
It	it	its tail
We	us	our house	It's ours .
You	you	your dog	It's yours .

PERSONAL PRONOUNS have two forms:

subject form	object form
I have got a book.	Give me the book, please.
Where is Mary? Is she coming?	Tell her to come.
Where is Bruno? He is late.	We are waiting for him.
They are lovely.	We love them .

WE USE POSSESSIVE AND ABSOLUTE PRONOUNS to show that something belongs to somebody.

Possessive pronouns are followed by a noun.	Absolute pronouns are used without a noun.
For example: That isn't my pencil. Is this your bag? This can't be their cat.	Mine is here. My bag is old and yours is new. Theirs is black and white.

REFLEXIVE PRONOUNS

use	example
Singular pronouns end in -self myself yourself himself herself itself	The plural forms end in -selves ourselves yourselves themselves
We use reflexive pronouns after the verb when the subject and the object are the same person.	I hurt myself when I fell down. She made herself a cup of coffee.

Note: We often use reflexive pronouns after: behave, burn, control, cut, defend, enjoy, help, hurt, introduce, kill and teach.

use	example
Reflexive pronouns are also used after a verb + preposition.	She spoke to herself. He looked at himself in the mirror. Take care of yourself. She did it by herself. (on her own)
Sometimes we use reflexive pronouns for emphasis.	Prince Charles himself painted the pictures.

to talk about prohibition	You mustn't walk on the grass in the park.

FIRST CONDITIONAL form conditional clause: if + present simple main clause: will + infinitive without 'to'

use	example
for future events which are likely to	If you hurry , you will catch your plane.

THE PASSIVE

form be + past participle

The passive is formed by making the object of the active clause into the subject of the new clause.

use	example
Present Simple	They make this cheese in France.
	→ This cheese is made in France.
Past Simple	They invented bungee jumping in New Zealand.
	→ Bungee jumping was invented in New Zealand.
Present Continuous	They are decorating their house this week.
	→ Their house is being decorated this week.
Past Continuous	She was feeding my cat at the weekend.
	→ My cat was being fed at the weekend.
Present Perfect	They closed the disco for a month.
	→ The disco was closed for a month.
Past Perfect	He had caught the fish.
	→ The fish had been caught.
Modal Verbs	Two people can move the piano.
	→ The piano can be moved by two people.

use	example
when the persor or thing doing the action is obvious or unimportant	The house was built in a month.
when the person or thing doing the action is not known	Stonehenge was constructed in about 3000 BC.
to describe how something is made or how it works	Glass is made from sand, soda and limestone.

Note:

 We use by + person/thing when we want to emphasise who or what did something, e.g.

Hadrian's Wall was built by the Romans in the first century AD.

RELATIVE CLAUSES

pronoun	use	example
who	for people	People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones.
whose	possessive of who	Whose bicycle is this?
which	for things	The book which my brother gave me was really exciting.
where	for places	I saw the house where my mother was born.
when	for time	That was a time when he travelled a lot.
why	for reasons	I don't know why she is so annoyed.

Note:

- Sometimes we can use that instead of which, e.g. The book that my brother gave me is really exciting.
- Commas are used in non-defining relative clauses which give extra or unessential information, e.g. The book, which my brother gave me for my birthday, is really exciting.
- No commas are used in defining relative clauses which give essential information, e.g. This is the book that/which my brother gave me.

GERUNDS AND INFINITIVES

gerund	infinitive	infinitive
(-ing form used as noun)	with to	without to
Swimming is good for you. I enjoy swimming. Common verbs and phrases followed by a gerund -ing form: admit, avoid deny, can't help, do you mind?, consider, dislike, enjoy, feel like, finish, give up, imagine, mention, practise, risk, suggest	I want to watch TV this evening. Common verbs and phrases followed by an infinitive with to: afford, agree, appear, arrange, ask, attempt, begin*, can't stand*, care, choose, consent continue, decide, expect, fail, forget, happen, hate*, help, hesitate, hope, intend*, learn, like*, love*, manage, mean, offer, ought, prefer*, prepare, pretend, promise, refuse, regret*, remember*, seem, start*, swear, try* want wish	I would rather play tennis. Common verbs and phrases followed by an infinitive without to: can, could, may, might, must, shall, will, would rather Note: The verbs marked * can be followed by either an infinitive without to or a gerund -ing form, but there may be a change in meaning.

QUESTION TAGS

Question tags often follow sentences in speech and informal writing. We use them when we want to check if something is true.

use	example
	We are playing tennis this afternoon, aren't we?

The meaning of a question tag is: 'Is it true?' 'Do you agree?'

form	example
We make the question tag in the same way we make an ordinary question. It consists of an auxiliary + a pronoun. But when the main sentence is positive, the question tag	She is very nice, isn't she?
is negative. When the main sentence is negative, the question tag is positive.	You don't know the answer, do you?

use	example
If there is only the verb be in the main	It is a nice day, isn't it?
sentence, we repeat it in the question tag.	Mrs Green wasn't at home, was she?

But: I'm very late, aren't I?
The question tag for I'm is aren't I?

use	example
If there is a modal auxiliary verb (can, could,	You can't understand me, can you?
must, should, will, would, etc.) in the main	They should be here, shouldn't they?
sentence, we repeat it in the question tag.	Peter could help us, couldn't he?
	You won't tell anyone, will you?
If there is an auxiliary verb (be, have, do)	She is doing well, isn't she?
in the main sentence, we repeat it in the	It was raining, wasn't it?
question tag.	You haven't seen Jack, have you?
	Your mum doesn't speak German,
	does she?
	She didn't lose the tickets, did she?
If there is no auxiliary verb in the main	You play the piano, don't you?
sentence, we use do in the question tag.	Tim gave you this book, didn't he?
